Slightly Cooler, Fair Weather Is Forecast

Another fair day, slightly cooler than Thursday, is promised Atlanta for today by the weather bureau. The temperature is expected to range between 50 and 75 degrees. Thursday's temperature was between 67 and 80 degrees, and the day was fair. A threatened storm in the west that promised rain here veered away. Temperature in the eighties was reported Thursday in Kentucky, Tennessee and parts of Indiana, while Chicago reported 44.

Woman Accused.

GULFPORT, Miss., April 5.—(AP) Charged with shooting with intent to kill her divorced husband, Mrs. P. A. Kendrick today was held for the Harrison county grand jury under bond of $500, following a preliminary hearing at which her contested against her.

ICKES NOT TO ATTEND PUBLIC AFFAIRS MEET

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP) Secretary Ickes said today he would be unable to attend the meeting of the institute of public affairs at Athens, Ga., to which he had been invited.

MRS. MASSIE INJURED IN FALL ABOARD SHIP

GENOA, Italy, April 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Thalia Massie, central figure in the sensational Honolulu attack case of 1932, arrived here today from New York aboard the liner Roma, confined to the ship's infirmary. It was stated that she fell from the bridge to the deck during the trip and received minor injuries. Mrs. Massie was recently divorced from Lieutenant Thomas Hedges Massie, the young naval officer.

WOODIN'S CONDITION REPORTED FAVORABLE

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP)—William H. Woodin, former secretary of the treasury, who is in a Manhattan hospital suffering from a throat ailment, rested comfortably last night, the hospital said. His condition was reported favorable today.

Bolivians Retreat.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, April 5.—(AP)—The ministry of defense issued a statement tonight that the Bolivian army had abandoned advance posts in a sector near Fort Ballivian after sharp encounters with the Paraguayan forces.

U. S. PAY ROLLS HIT NEW HIGH MARK

Wages, Employment at Peaks in February, Untouched Since 1931.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—Pay rolls in American manufacturing industry hit a new high in February, creating peaks in both wages and employment untouched since early 1931. The department of commerce, announcing this today, added that probable further improvement in March would supplant these figures, but that only incomplete estimates for the month were available.

The department stated that a swelling in manufacturing pay rolls of 12 per cent in February as compared to January constituted the greatest one-month improvement in 15 years. A 6 per cent gain in actual factory employment during the month as compared to January was recorded as having been exceeded only three times in 15 years.

None of the figures included the splurge of pay increases recently announced in the steel, automobile and other industries, many of which go into effect this month.

The NRA was disclosed today to be watching such data intently, while gathering more of its own. On good authority it was indicated that quick general action by industry to shorten working hours for re-employment is not now expected by Blue Eagle officials, but within a reasonable period voluntary cuts are looked for from large individual groups. If not, the original idea that a flat 10 per cent reduction be required by the government of all who cannot show good cause to the contrary, may be brought into play.

GET LIFE TERMS IN RUMANIAN PLOT

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 5.—(AP)—A court today acquitted 48 persons accused of complicity in the assassination of the late Premier Ion Duca, but sentenced three others to life imprisonment for the crime. The sensational verdict was widely interpreted as a victory for the fascist and anti-Semitic iron guard. The actual killer, Nicholas Constantinescu, and his two confederates, all were alleged members of the iron guard, were the three given life. Corneliu Codreanu, the leader of the iron guard and the so-called Hitler of Rumania, was among those freed of guilt.

Economy Sale

IT used to be that "laying in a supply" meant tying up money that could be used to better advantage and day-by-day buying was the wisest thing. But today, with future price uncertainty, it's a wise housewife who takes advantage of a sale like this, when it is possible to stock up at special "quantity prices."

Native Canaries, Cotton Pickers To Vie With Peach Trees at Fair

Atlanta-born canaries will sing at the Georgia exhibit this year at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, Virgil W. Shepard, exhibit director, said Thursday in outlining plans for Georgia's spot in the court of states.

Fully 10,000,000 persons are expected to visit the state's show this year, nearly twice as many as saw the exhibit in 1933. Because the position of the midway has been changed, throngs will be forced to pass the Georgia entrance to reach it, Shepard said.

The World's Fair this year opens officially on May 26, and will be one-fourth larger than in 1933. Georgia's exposition of the state's agricultural, industrial and educational fields and natural resources also will be more extensive.

AD CLUB MEETING DEFERRED TO TODAY

The luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Ad Club which was to have been held Thursday in Rich's tea room has been postponed until today at the same hour, 12:30 o'clock, in the same place.

Dr. Sinclair Jacobs, president of the Jacobs Pharmacy Co., will speak on "Advertising the Advertiser."

A beautiful scene has been planned for the exhibit by Shepard, who directed the show last year. Full-grown peach trees in bloom will line the walls and a cotton field with real country, cotton-picking negroes singing cotton-picking songs will be another feature. Concealed from the public, 25 canaries raised in Atlanta will sing continuously during the day.

The mineral exhibit which last year attracted much attention will be enlarged and given greater display, it was said. Manufacturers and agriculturists are already preparing extensive exhibits and a broad display of the educational and cultural facilities of the state will be included, Shepard asserted.

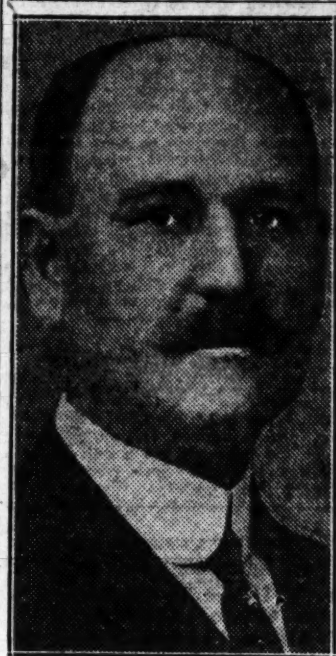

Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the Georgia fair commission, reports that subscriptions to raise the $20,000 necessary to stage the exhibition are being donated daily and that Georgians are taking a great interest in the fair.

Georgia scenes in paintings and photographs will be in the exhibit and literature on Georgia's advantages will be distributed.

GUY WEBB SUCCUMBS AT HOME IN DECATUR

Funeral Rites This Afternoon for Former City Commissioner in Decatur.

Guy Webb, 62, of 511 West Howard avenue, Decatur, former city commissioner of Decatur, died Thursday morning at his home after two years of ill health. Mr. Webb was a salesman for the George Muse Clothing Company for many years, building a wide circle of friends.

Born in DeKalb county, Mr. Webb was reared in Decatur and Atlanta. He was a member of the old city council in Decatur and when the city changed to a commission form of government he served as a member of the commission. He was forced to give up his work about two years ago because of illness.

In addition to his wife, Zelotte Webb, of Atlanta; a nephew, Dr. Z. L. Webb, of St. Augustine, Fla.; and a niece, Mrs. Joe Henderson, of New Orleans.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence, Dr. D. P. McGeehey and Dr. R. L. Ramsey will officiate. Interment will be in West View cemetery, with A. S. Turner in charge. Pallbearers will be Dr. J. R. McCain, Will Green, Robert Hale, John P. Jerguson, D. C. Lawhon, Jake Hall, P. C. Collins and Scott Candler.

Smashed Slot Machine Net $100 to County

Fulton county is richer by $100 as a result of the smashing Thursday of 25 slot machines seized several years ago which have been lying in the solicitor's offices since that time. The sum, contained in the machines, and made up of pennies, nickels and quarters, were turned over to the county treasury.

The machines were broken up with sledge hammers after an order had been received from superior court. While courthouse employees were busy destroying the machines the city-county slot machine squad in Thursday's raids took 25 more machines. The latest batch of alleged gambling devices was taken from the repair-yard of J. G. Shearer, of 2308 Piedmont road, according to investigators of the solicitor-general's office.

Now You Can Have "Cake Flour RESULTS"

--for All Your Baking

Women who don't know about White Lily Flour frequently do this: For cake-baking they buy a very expensive so-called cake-flour packed in paper cartons. Then because they feel they must economize on their other baking, they buy a medium priced or cheap flour. The result is that this most important part of their baking—biscuits, rolls, pastries, the things they serve day in and day out, often are very disappointing. Now mind you, White Lily is the finest Cake-Flour money will buy regardless of price or package. But its cost is so reasonable that you can well afford it for all your baking.

Women who use White Lily Flour not only have better cakes but they have the satisfaction of cake-flour results no matter what they bake.

"I'd like a slice off of THAT ham please"

Southern women "know their groceries." That's why in buying a center slice for frying, or a whole ham for baking—White's CORNFIELD is the popular ham... They know from experience that White's Cornfield has that wonderful flavor for which the old south was famous. There's a very definite reason why this flavor is there... We select only the choicest, most tender pork hams, which are given White's special "hickory-smoke." If you want to find out how good ham can really be, ask your butcher for White's CORNFIELD next time!

Insull May Seek Britain's Help In Fight To Prevent Extradition

ISTANBUL, April 5.—(AP)—Samuel Insull's lawyers mapped their campaign today for keeping the aged former utilities executive out of the hands of American authorities.

They indicated an intention of exercising all rights under the law in this direction, including representation to the council of state and even to the Turkish parliament in a hope of obtaining a cassation (annulment) court decision against the government's extradition order.

If these efforts fail an appeal will be made to the British government on the 74-year-old fugitive's behalf because he is a native of England.

Dispatches from London, however, quoted authorities as saying even if Insull were a British subject—he could regain his British nationality only through residence—a Turko-American extradition treaty now nearing ratification would give the United States the right to extradite even a British subject charged with violating American laws.

The third penal court, meanwhile, reaffirmed its stand that Insull could not appeal from its recent decision upholding Turkey's right to hand him over to American authorities.

But Public Prosecutor Kena announced Istanbul legal officials examined a new protest lodged by Insull's attorneys against the one-time Chicagoan's arrest on grounds of illegality, and one lawyer prepared personally to present a new appeal to the court of cassation at Eskişehir.

Alexander Mango, British member of Insull's battery of lawyers, expressed optimism regarding this latest fight against extradition to face trial on larceny and embezzlement charges based on the collapse of the Insull utilities.

Mango said his appeal against the penal court's refusal to reconsider its decision has not been rejected since no notification of rejection has yet been received from the tribunal.

Filing the appeal, he contended, suspends preventative detention. He added that the defense is protesting against the judicial procedure in the case.

Insull himself remained in a bare hospital room under police guard. He whiled away the time writing notes for his memoirs, considerably more cheerful than during recent days because he received $10,000 from his London agents for continuing his battle.

American plans, meanwhile, for returning him remained undisclosed, but it was believed he may be put aboard a boat leaving Tuesday.

Mme. Lillie Conyounjoglu, friend of the Insulls, arrived in Athens today after vain attempts to help Insull at Istanbul and Rumania, where she was refused permission to land.

She went to Mrs. Insull's Athens hotel and refused to discuss further moves. The alien control office said perjury and complicity charges threatened against her in connection with Insull's flight from Athens more than two weeks ago might be dropped.

Injured in Crash.

BALTIMORE, April 5.—(AP)—H. F. Piggett, 47, of Alexandria, Va., and Leroy Gates, 37, of Wheeling, W. Va., were injured last night when their car crashed into a culvert near Baltimore. Both were treated at a hospital here.

MRS. ELBERT GARY DIES IN NEW YORK

Widow of Steel Magnate
 Passes After Long Illness.

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Elbert H. Gary, widow of the steel magnate, died at 9 o'clock this morning at her Fifth Avenue residence after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Gary, the former Emma Townsend, was the second wife of the steel man, whom she married in 1905, three years after the death of his first wife.

At the time of their marriage, he had been identified with the United States Steel Corporation for four years. Mrs. Gary's most important role was as hostess at the famous dinners she and her husband gave when he was at the peak of his career.

After his death in 1927 she lived quietly in her Jericho, Long Island, home and in an upper Fifth Avenue apartment.

She was a meticulous housekeeper. Her servants were carefully checked in and out of the building, and every morning a report of their movements was slipped under her door.

One reason for such care was the great value of the furnishings and art treasures in their home. The Gary gold dinner service once was reputed to be worth $500,000. They also owned a less valuable but larger silver service.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary had no children, although Mr. Gary had two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Gary Sutcliffe and Mrs. Rena Gary Campbell, by his first wife.

In his will Mr. Gary gave some sage advice to his wife and daughters about handling the huge fortune that he left them virtually intact. He advised them not to sign a bond for any other person, to make loans on nothing but first-class security, to avoid untried investments, and to reject any investment advice about which they were in doubt.

In the apartment building where Mrs. Gary spent her last few years lived many of her friends—men and women who frequently had been entertained at the steel magnate's home.

Diplomatic Immunity Blocks Traffic Trial

Because his father is an official of a foreign country, George Arias, 22-year-old Georgia Tech student, was not forced to face trial Thursday afternoon in recorder's court on a charge of speeding.

Young Arias, son of Juan B. Arias, vice consul of the Republic of Panama, had the case made against him March 29, but when Mayor Egan wrote John L. Cone a letter pointing out that foreign officials are exempt from minor court trials in this country, the judge dismissed the case. Ramon Feraud, Panama commissioner, appeared before the board of governors of the Atlantic City hospital.

YOUTHFUL VICTIM OF AMNESIA FOUND AFTER SEVEN YEARS

TARBORO, April 5.—(AP)—A boy who disappeared from his home in Wisconsin at the age of 16 had been returned today to his parents in Lacrosse after seven years of wandering. Giving his name as Earl Kunert, he was committed to the Edgecombe county jail last November when carnival authorities with whom he worked turned him over to Tarboro officers because he was apparently insane.

Dr. R. E. Broadway, Edgecombe health officer, questioned the boy at length and, from correspondence resulting from his answers, learned that his real name was Elmer Hoeth, of Lacrosse. When he informed the boy of his identity Hoeth improved rapidly and was able to recall facts about his family, Dr. Broadway said.

Miss Eloise Hoeth, sister of Elmer, who recognized him readily as her missing brother, came to Tarboro and took the boy to Wisconsin.

Hoeth said he traveled over United States and Canada and suffered a severe injury in a Canadian coal mine. Apparently he was suffering from amnesia when he was handed over to Edgecombe authorities, Dr. Broadway said.

AUTOIST BOUND OVER AS CRASH AFTERMATH

Charged with assault and battery in connection with an automobile accident, Dr. John Kahn, of 417 Eighth street, was bound over to the city criminal court under $100 bond Thursday afternoon by Judge A. W. Callaway, in recorder's court.

The cars of Dr. Kahn and W. F. Nash, 412 Peror street, collided at Hunter and Whitehall streets March 31.

BANKERS FACE ARREST IN SECURITY FORGERY

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(AP)—Millions of dollars worth of forged Liberty bonds and securities have been disposed of in Los Angeles, Ernest R. Utley, assistant United States attorney, said today in announcing a grand jury investigation.

The prosecutor said it was "probable" several bank officials and employees would be indicted.

TRAINMAN IS KILLED IN ALABAMA WRECK

DORA, Ala., April 5.—(AP)—One trainman was killed and another injured seriously here this afternoon in the derailment of the engine, baggage and mail cars of the fast Frisco passenger Train No. 106.

Tom P. Kelly, of Birmingham, engineer was killed, and Bert Davis, negro fireman, was injured seriously. Trainmen could assign no cause for the derailment.

None of the passengers on the train which was en route from Kansas City to Birmingham, was hurt.

Heart Attack Suffered By Joseph F. Cannon

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 5.—(AP)—Stricken with a severe heart attack at his hotel early today, Joseph F. Cannon, Kannapolis, N. C., towel manufacturer, rallied tonight and was said by Dr. Leonard Ellis, his physician, to be resting comfortably.

Dr. Ellis said Cannon's condition was serious but not necessarily alarming.

Cannon came to Hot Springs two months ago with his daughter, Mrs. Anne Cannon Smith, who filed suit today for divorce from F. Brandon Smith Jr., of Charlotte, N. C. The complaint charged general indignities.

SMITH SUITS TO FILE SUIT AGAINST CANNON

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 5.—(AP)—F. Brandon Smith Jr., of Charlotte, failed to file his threatened $250,000 suit against his father-in-law, Joseph F. Cannon, for alleged alienation of Mrs. Smith's affections today, but said it would be filed tomorrow.

AMERICAN'S DAUGHTER WEDS ITALIAN COUNT

ROME, April 5.—(AP)—Miss Carla Malagola, descendant of a well-known American family, and Count Giorgio Roberti, professor of chemistry at the University of Rome, were married yesterday at San Marco church in ceremonies attended by members of the American colony and Rome aristocracy.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alexandra Dunbar-Marshall Innes by a former marriage, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Dunbar Marshall. Since her mother's marriage a few years ago to Captain G. W. Holt Innes, of the Prince of Wales' West Yorkshire regiment, she has lived with her grandmother in Rome.

COERCION IS CHARGED TO A. F. OF L. IN STEELWierion Employee Alleges High-Handed Methods Used in Organizing.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—A representative of Weirion Steel Company employees said today the national labor board had pursued a high-handed course of conduct calculated to force workers into the ranks of the amalgamated association of iron, steel and tin workers, an American Federation of Labor union.

Jack Larkin, chairman of the Weirion employees' organization, which has been described by some as a company union, appeared before the senate labor committee to oppose the Wagner labor bill and testified the labor board had kept in constant touch with "union agitators" and had often divulged advance information of its plans to them.

One of the investigators which the board sent to Weirion, W. Va., he said, was found to be a member and former organizer of the amalgamated association.

Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corporation, owner of the Weirion company, and other leaders in the steel industry also presented strong opposition to the Wagner bill, asserting it would promote industrial discord and hamper recovery.

The legislation would make permanent the labor board and outlaw employer-dominated company unions.

Weir asserted "industry cannot function under such a handicap as would be imposed" by the bill and used such terms as "vicious," "destructive" and "grossly unfair" in condemning it.

Bellicose Talk Fills the Air But No Fists Fly in Long Row

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—A quarrel between Huey Long and his democratic colleagues of the senate, so bitterly worded that a move was afoot to expunge the debate from the records, tonight had arrested all routine business of that branch of congress.

It had its inception in mildly caustic exchanges in a senate committee hearing in the morning. It swelled by surges on the senate floor during the afternoon and reached a crescendo tonight in talks of fight, blood and lying.

In it was involved the tongue-haired Long, hoarse-voiced from shouted debate; the tall, savage fighter, Harrison, of Mississippi, and the stocky battler, Clark, of Missouri. Others joined in the sideline sharpshooting from time to time.

The immediate incentive for Long's present fight was his objection to the administration's nomination of D. D. Moore as internal revenue collector for Louisiana, Moore being an anti-Long organization man. Using this as a springboard, Long reopened his attack against the Roosevelt administration, both in the senate finance committee hearing and on the floor.

Particularly, Long's attack was directed at the democratic leaders in the senate, still more specifically against Senator Harrison.

The salient points of the fight today included:

The advice to Long by Clark that "the easiest way to stop these libel suits is to quit lying about them (people)." Clark's charge that Long "hid under the bed" when the World War was declared.

Long's charge that Harrison had ridden into office "on the back" of former Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, and then ran against him for the senate.

Said Long: "There are two ways of being a friend. One is to get your friend in trouble, stick him in the back and drink his blood. The other is to point out a demand to abide by the rules of senate debate."

Step Outside. A second near-fist combat occurred in the hearing, in which Edward Righter, attorney for Moore, and Long clashed in an exchange. In it Long said "that's an infamous falsehood." Righter retorted that "you wouldn't say that if there weren't a lot of policemen around," and Long replied:

"Well, if you'll just step outside—there was while Long was locked in verbal battle with Clark that the matter of libel suits against the Louisiana came up.

"Why," said Long, swinging his arms in windmill fashion to take in the four corners of the compass, "I have practically wore out the railroads traveling from one place to another in this country on these suits."

"Why, a lady waited 364 days to file her suit," Long said, "on the very strange charge that in some office somewhere I had told her to stop cussin' people out."

NEW ORLEANS CURBS GAMBLING ACTIVITY

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 5. (UP)—Dice, roulette and blackjack games in downtown gambling houses were halted by police late today.

No arrests were made and racing hand bookmakers were not interfered with. The word was merely passed around that the lid would go on until Senator Huey P. Long's newest future in Washington subsides.

The senator is "exposing" local gambling conditions in his fight against senate confirmation of D. D. Moore as collector of internal revenue.

Gambling is illegal here, but it thrives in almost every known form, with no attempt at concealment.

Here Clark gained the floor to say to Long:

"Quit Lying. The easiest way to stop these libel suits is to quit lying about them. Long swung to the chair to demand: 'I want that stricken from the record.'"

In an earlier exchange, Clark charged that Long had first waived immunity in a proceedings and then retorted that action that "that's why" Clark said, referring to Long's familiar nickname, "people have changed the name from 'Kingfish' to 'Crawfish'."

"In whose minds is that name changed?" Long wanted to know.

"In the minds of nearly everybody in the United States," Clark retorted. After Long and Clark had exchanged verbal thrusts for more than an hour, Senator Hastings, republican, Delaware, interrupted to say:

"I wonder if we can't adjourn to some prizefight ring and have it out."

Strong Words. Neither of the verbal combatants replied to his suggestion, but they continued to throw at each other some of the strongest words ever heard in senate debate.

Clark asked Long about his failure to serve in the army during the war and his refusal to waive immunity so he could be sued for libel by Samuel T. Ansell, former counsel for the senate campaign investigating committee.

In connection with the first question, Long said he had a wife and two children, was $400 in debt and was placed in Class 4-A by the draft board.

But that wasn't the only reason he didn't join the army, Long added, explaining: "I wasn't mad at anybody and I didn't try to break into that war. And if you declare another war I won't try to break into that."

Clark characterized Long's reply as a "shameful statement" and charged he "hid under the bed" when war was declared. He asked Long what right he had to wear a Veterans of Foreign Wars insignia on his coat lapel.

Honorary Member. Long replied that he had been given honorary membership in the organization.

"If the Veterans of Foreign Wars gave an honorary membership to a man who hid under the bed during the war then I'm going to resign," Clark retorted.

When Long finally had finished for the day Clark got to his feet to comment on "this long harangue."

"There is," said Clark, "no more important revenue bill before the senate and this seven-hour harangue than there is between the best thing to do for the recovery of the United States and who hit the senator from Louisiana at Santa Point."

Clark first figured in the day's fighting when he raised a point of order against Long's insertion of the quarrel into the senate's consideration of the revenue bill.

The Missourian, however, became directly concerned with the argument which until then had primarily involved Long and Harrison when Long said that he personally had paid a bill of $800 for a sound truck used in Clark's 1932 campaign.

Clark said this was "absolutely false" and produced a receipt for the payment.

In his dispute with Harrison, Long said the Mississippian had ridden into public office on the back of former Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, then turned against him and run against him for the senate.

"That's his way of being a friend," Long said.

Harrison replied he was "sure the people of Mississippi would not permit such wild and rambling utterances to influence them."

Harrison, whose Mississippi district borders that of Long, precipitated today's quarrel on the floor when he sought to answer a charge of Long yesterday that the democratic leadership had helped the Hoover administration "to send the country to hell."

Little Respect. Long told Harrison today he included him in the leadership, to which the finance committee chairman replied: "If others care no more about his (Long's) estimate of me than I care about it, it makes no difference because in my opinion the opinion of the senator from Louisiana is less respected by the membership of this body as a whole and by the country than that of any other senator here."

During the hearing before the senate committee, at which the feeling between Long and Harrison, the chairman, came to the surface several times, Colonel E. B. Bradley, stocky, ruddy complexioned Kentucky sportsman and racing stable owner, said $5,000 of his money had gone to "pay Senator Long's political debts" after Long's election to the governorship in 1928.

Money for Long. The money, Bradley said, was given by him to John P. Sullivan, of New Orleans, who told him, in discussing Long, that "I'd like to help him clean up some of his debt."

Long has charged that Sullivan and Bradley dominate D. D. Moore, now appointee as internal revenue collector in Louisiana and an anti-Long man.

"You know," Long asked Bradley, "that Colonel Sullivan and myself have been political opponents for a number of years?" "Yes, since you fell out," Bradley answered.

Brookfield Butter

IT'S CREAMERY-DELIVERED!

Rushed to Our Stores by Swift's
Own Fresh Food Service.

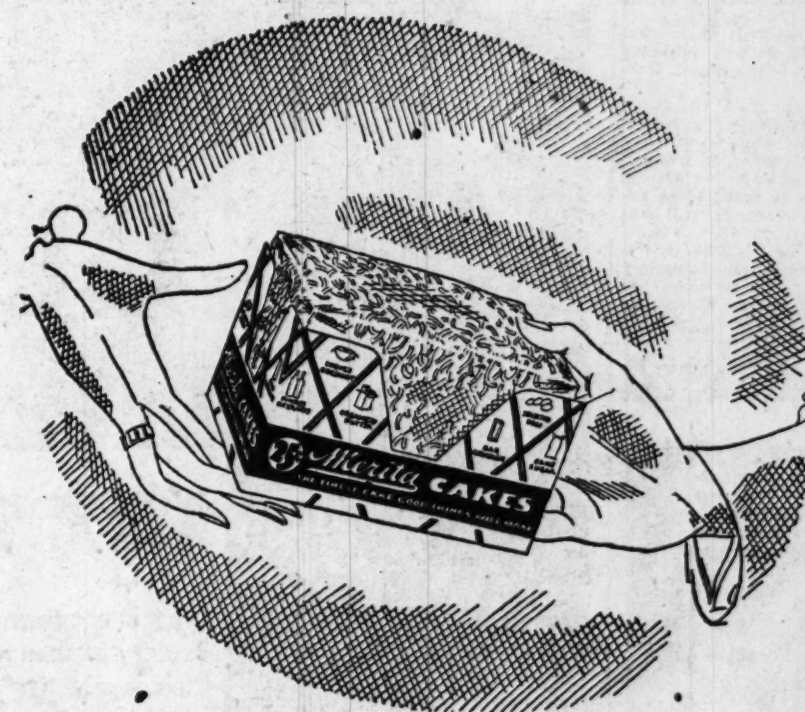

For years Swift's Brookfield
Butter has been America's largest selling brand.

It's really surprising when you find out about it—the inside story of this famous butter. First, about the fine, rich cream from which it's made. To get this cream, Swift has built a network of spotless creameries in the choice dairy sections of twenty-four states. Second, the way in which we guard the fragrant, new-churned goodness of Swift's Brookfield Butter. It's Creamery-Delivered. It is hurried to us by Swift's own fresh food service—under constant refrigeration all the way. To get butter with all its first, delicate bloom of flavor, ask today for a package of Swift's Brookfield Butter.

DEATH TOLL HEAVY IN FLOODED AREAS

12 Dead Recovered, Many Others Believed To Have Perished in Midwest.

By the Associated Press.

Subsiding flood waters left tragic spectacles Thursday night in the stricken valleys of Texas and Oklahoma, where more than a score of lives were lost in the sudden swelling of rivers and creeks.

Searchers patrolled the turbid Washita river in Oklahoma, seeking the bodies of five or more still missing in the flood. Twelve dead had been recovered and fear was expressed that the torrent had swept to death unidentified inhabitants of tent camps and dugouts along the stream.

Property damage in the Elk City (Okla.) region was estimated at $625,000.

Texas counted four victims in surging Saline creek, near Menard, where four to ten inches of rain fell. Three of the bodies were recovered.

Rain persisted in the western Wisconsin territory, where 19 bridges have been torn away or rendered perilous by rising waters. Nine persons died in the floods.

The Chippewa river at Eau Claire, Wis., menaced business houses in the lower parts of the city and merchants hurriedly carried their stocks upstairs. A half million dollars in property damage was reported at Chippewa Falls, where Caneau creek already has receded 14 feet.

Locks and dams along the Mississippi river near Winona, Minn., were threatened with inundation and seven channel projects were endangered as the Father of Waters crept six feet higher and approached flood stage.

17 ARE COUNTED DEAD IN OKLAHOMA AREA

ELK CITY, Okla., April 5.—(AP)—Warnings of a new rise of the treacherous Washita river came tonight as the red waters, in sudden retreat, backed the extent of yesterday's fury—death list placed at 17 and damage of $625,000.

Wary rescuers and venturesome householders were advised to evacuate the lowlands as reports from Hamburg, 35 miles upstream from the Hammond flood area, described an overflow there caused by Texas rains. The rise was not expected to reach the devastated area before morning.

From mud, brakes and driftwood, meanwhile, the bodies of 11 women and children had been recovered near Hammond.

Six others for whom hope was abandoned were advised to evacuate the lowlands as reports from Hamburg, 35 miles upstream from the Hammond flood area, described an overflow there caused by Texas rains. The rise was not expected to reach the devastated area before morning.

Religious Typewriter Stolen From Pastor

A typewriter, described by its owner, "as very religious and faithful," was stolen by burglars Thursday from the study of the Rev. D. S. Patterson, pastor of the Payne Memorial Methodist church, police reported.

"If my machine is returned," said the pastor, "I will deliver a helpful and highly instructive sermon to the hearers, and in every particular good will be returned for evil."

One of them, Ewing Taylor, told of clinging to a bush all night while two companions perched in a tree.

"I was plenty scared," he said. "My hands go cold and stiff, and it was hard to hang on against the current."

But the water receded and Taylor, Flay Freeman and Lawrence Conway, swam and waded ashore. Two others, their boat upset by driftwood, also swam to safety. They were "Rusty" Toller and Harry Kemp.

Arthur Adams, 41-year-old farmer, who lost his wife and six daughters when their floating house collapsed, was suffering from exposure and shock.

"God only knows what I'll do," he said. "But it's a relief to know that some of the bodies were found."

Four persons were drowned in southwestern Texas, April 5.—(AP)—Four persons were drowned when heavy rains sent creeks and streams out of their banks in southwest Texas today.

The swollen Saline creek swept across a sandbar where Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Carroll lived, demolishing their home and carrying them downstream with their ranch helper, named Welch. All three bodies were recovered.

Mrs. D. H. Teal, 18, lost her life 60 miles east of Menard in attempting to wade out of a rising creek.

The Saline creek usually is about two yards wide.

KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES

Sandwich Recipes.

For informal dining, sandwiches are in perfect accord with the tempo of American life. They offer obvious advantages in ease of preparation—simplicity of service—appeal to the eye—and universal popularity. It is no wonder that hostesses are more and more giving them the foremost place in many menus.

Substantial sandwiches and a salad are most appropriate for luncheon and supper the year round, and the possibilities for variations are so great that there need never be monotony. Contrasts in fillings are essential—bland fillings must always be accented by pickle or mustard—meat sandwiches must, above all, be moist and the meat sliced across the grain rather than with it—then combined with tomato ketchup or horseradish or meat sauce. More and more it is becoming the custom to serve a hearty sandwich, a beverage and a sweet for luncheon or supper or midnight snack—or a hot soup, sandwich and beverage for luncheon. Even dinners may be varied to include a hot meat or fish sandwich with tomato sauce or gravy, baked potatoes, tomato chips and a crisp salad and dessert. Such delightful dinners suit the modern tendency toward informality and speed.

Following are a number of sandwich recipes for various occasions:

Open Salad Sandwiches.

Twelve sliced cold bread, 3 tomatoes, sliced; 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped; 1-4 cupful stuffed Spanish olives, chopped; 2 cupfuls diced cooked ham, 1 cupful diced celery, 3 tablespoons India relish, mayonnaise.

Trim crusts from bread and spread with soft butter or mayonnaise, place two slices on each plate. On one slice place two thin slices of tomato and sprinkle with salt and pepper, then with chopped hard-cooked eggs and olives combined. On the other slice of bread, place a crisp, dry cup-shaped leaf of lettuce. Combine diced ham with celery, India relish and enough mayonnaise to moisten. Heap a generous spoonful of this mixture in the lettuce cup. Garnish the plate with a quarter of hard-cooked egg and several stuffed Spanish olives.

Salad Sandwich Rolls.

Two cupfuls cold diced cooked chicken, veal, pork or flaked white tuna fish, 1 cupful diced celery, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 teaspoonful sugar, 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped (save several slices for garnishings), 1-4 cupful stuffed Spanish olives, sliced; mayonnaise.

To the diced cold meat add celery, salt, sugar, eggs and olives. Moisten with mayonnaise and chill thoroughly. Cut bread lengthwise of the loaf, having it about 1-4-inch thick. Trim the crusts and place the bread in a damp linen cloth for about an hour, so it will roll easily. Spread the bread with soft butter then with a generous layer of the salad, and roll firmly the top with slices of hard-cooked egg, sprigs of watercress and slices of olives, and at one side place several sweet midget gherkins.

Salad Club Sandwiches.

One-half cupful minced chicken, veal, pork or lamb, 1-2 cupful finely diced celery, 1-4 cupful mayonnaise, 1 hard-cooked egg, chopped; 1-4 cupful stuffed Spanish olives, chopped.

Combine all ingredients and spread between two slices of toast or in heated rolls, which have been split and buttered. Serve the sandwiches on crisp heart leaves of lettuce and garnish with slices of genuine dill pickle.

Deviled Cheese.

One cupful grated American cheese, 1-2 cupful ground ham, 2 tablespoonful prepared brown mustard, 1 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce.

Combine above ingredients and spread between slices of buttered rye or whole wheat bread. Press together and toast to a golden brown. Serve with green dill pickle.

Variety Sandwiches.

One-half pound assorted cold meats (ham, bologna or salami, tongue, etc.), 2 tablespoonful tomato ketchup, 1-4 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoonful evaporated horseradish (soaked for 10 minutes in 1 tablespoonful cold water).

Chop meats finely, combine with ketchup, mayonnaise and horseradish. Spread a generous layer of this filling between slices of hot buttered toast, and serve. Garnish at one side with Spanish queen olives.

Vegetable Sandwiches.

Two cupfuls shredded lettuce, 1-2 cupful cold cooked peas, 1 large tomato, finely diced; 2 tablespoonfuls minced onion, 1-2 medium-size green pepper, minced; 8 to 10 stuffed Spanish olives, chopped; salt and pepper to taste, mayonnaise.

Combine lettuce, peas, tomato, onion, pepper and olives. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with mayonnaise. Serve between slices of buttered bread or toast. Cut the sandwiches into rectangles when serving, but do not remove crusts.

Tongue Sandwiches.

Four tablespoonful butter, 1 tablespoonful finely minced onion, 6 tablespoonfuls browned flour, 2 cupfuls milk, 1 teaspoonful salt, 6 preserved sweet midget gherkins, finely chopped; 12 slices tongue, 12 slices buttered toast, crust removed.

Melt butter in saucepan, add onion and cook until slightly brown. Blend flour with butter and onion, add milk gradually and stir until medium-thick. Add salt and chopped gherkins. Place slices of tongue on slices of toast and cover with sauce. Cover with second slices of toast and tongue and cover again with sauce.

Tongue, Horseradish Sandwiches.

One cupful minced tongue, ham, cold roast beef or other cold meat, 1 teaspoonful evaporated horseradish, (soaked for 10 minutes in 1 tablespoonful cold water), 2 tablespoonfuls cold water, 1-4 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce.

Combine all ingredients and spread between two slices of toast or in heated rolls, which have been split and buttered. Serve the sandwiches on crisp heart leaves of lettuce and garnish with slices of genuine dill pickle.

Deviled Cheese.

One cupful grated American cheese, 1-2 cupful ground ham, 2 tablespoonful prepared brown mustard, 1 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce.

CITY NOT OBLIGATED ON STREET LIGHTING

A city is under no direct obligation to light its streets, the Georgia court of appeals ruled Thursday in denying damages to Ora Hall against the city of Augusta. The court held, however, that the matter of lighting enters into the question of whether the streets and sidewalks are maintained in reasonably safe condition.

Hall sued for damages when he stumbled and fell over a pipe protruding above a sidewalk. The lower court struck out a paragraph in the petition placing the responsibility on the city and the high court upheld that action.

We started an EAT WAVE!

Frankly, we are flabbergasted. We thought our Soups were good—yes, and savory and delicious and satisfying, because we deliberately made them that way. We thought the people who liked good home-made foods

Yet, they did! It became an Eat Wave! It swept the grocery stores bare of Heinz Soups and the grocers kept after us for more Soup in bigger lots—and oftener. And today we sell almost as much Soup in a day as we used to sell (not so long ago) in a week.

This makes it hard for us, because what makes people like our Soups at once and keep on, is the home recipe way we make them—the sound ingredients, conscientiously selected, the unhurried cooking in small batches. We have had to search far and wide to get the right good things to make them. We are working day and night over our slow, simmering kettles to keep up with the demand.

would want to try our Soups and having tried them would come back for more. But, we didn't expect an avalanche! We didn't expect that millions of people would start craving Heinz Soups constantly, and demanding Heinz Soups insistently. And we didn't expect all the grand old die-hard home cooks who spurned and scoffed at "canned goods" to break down and admit our soups were just like theirs—only better—and easier—and thrifter.

Beans that HIT THE SPOT!

This is not for men. This is for ladies. Ladies with hungry husbands. Tall, husky husbands who pant ravenously for grub. Or husbands short and cherubic who muse and dally over meals. Or just hungry husbands.

Heinz Oven-Baked Beans hit the spot! Hungry husbands say "Boy, oh boy! Are they good!"

Vivid memories of long-forgotten boyhood feasts come to mind. And this is because our beans are oven-baked.

We buy "choice-hand-picked" beans, sort them under strong lights, wash them, soak them in clear, cold water, bake them in dry oven heat. We bake them through and through, replacing their original moisture with sauces sweet and savory.

All this gives our beans the alluring golden-brown look, the savory aroma, the glorious flavor and pleasing munchiness that hungry husbands sigh for.

So we say keep a supply on hand. (Four kinds,* all seductive.) Thrill your husband now and then with the dish that hits the spot—oven-baked beans. And remember!—

POWER INQUIRY ROLE SPURNED BY BENNETT

New York Attorney-General and Governor Fear "Whitewash."

ALBANY, N. Y., April 5.—(AP)—Attorney-General John J. Bennett refused tonight to act as counsel for the senate judiciary committee in its investigation of Senator Warren T. Thayer.

Bennett acted upon the advice of Governor Herbert H. Lehman, who charged that the investigation as now outlined "would be worse than nothing."

This development followed close on the heels of the senate's rejection, by a close vote, of the governor's bill to permit cities to go into the electric light and gas business.

The senate passed eight of Mr. Lehman's bills for tighter restrictions on utility companies, but rejected another of his principal bills to charge utilities part of the cost of rate investigations.

The vote on the municipal ownership bill was 22 ayes and 22 noes, four votes short of passage. Seven democrats joined 15 republicans in voting no.

The governor, declaring "the fight has just begun," immediately made new plans to force enactment of utility reform laws.

He attacked the senate's present plans for investigating Senator Thayer, Franklin county republican, as "a feature for the purpose of misleading the public."

He laid before the legislature a new demand for "the broadest kind of an investigation of the whole utility situation."

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out through the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS.

A doctor's prescription which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS...the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McMillan Co.

STURDIVANT ASKS LIQUOR LICENSE

Sturdivant, as was inferred from his first announcement.

Asks Cash Rewards.

Boykin asked for the resumption of payments of cash rewards to informers, policemen and deputies sheriff who participate in the capture of liquor cars, and was asked by the commission to confer with County Attorney Ralph Pharr, in view of a legal opinion that such payments cannot be made legally because of the state salary act. Boykin's charges were coincident with release by the citizen and other clubs of a report urging the need of better law enforcement and urging the creation of a state-wide system of police.

Legalization of the sale of whiskey through repeal of the Georgia bone-dry law and enactment of proper control measures was urged Thursday in a statement by Chief Sturdivant, who said that 24 years of experience in police work under the liquor-control system and the bone-dry act have convinced him authorities are powerless to stem the tide of liquor pouring into the state.

As long as human nature is what it is and we are going to have liquor in our midst anyhow, it appears to me to be the best thing for us to drive the bootlegger out of business by having the legislature enact measures which will insure the proper control of whiskey in the state," Chief Sturdivant said.

"Build Legal Dam."

"When you attempt to suppress a product the people are determined to have, you are just running into the same situation old King Canute faced when he ordered the waves to stop mounting the shore. Canute got wet, and so will anyone else who attempts to stem such an irresistible tide," Chief Sturdivant said.

"The best thing to do under the circumstances is to follow the course used in controlling flood water, build a legal dam that will hold the water in check, but allow sufficient water to escape through spillways so the dam will not be overflowed or broken by the tremendous force of the impounded liquid."

Chief Sturdivant said he "noticed in The Constitution this morning that Solicitor-General Boykin is quoted as saying 'the city is a rendezvous for racketeers, bootleggers and vice leaders.'"

"It is true, as Mr. Boykin reports, that liquor is being sold over the counters, and that bootleggers are here in numbers," Sturdivant said.

"But it is also true that we pull many of these joints 10 or 15 times, only to have the bootleggers pay small fines and get back on the job immediately. We have five to seven men who are constantly at work on liquor cases. These men are known as 'Acree and his wrecking crew,' and they do good work. But as fast as they close up one section, another district breaks out just like a case of hives, and it is impossible to accomplish the death of the bootlegging industry in the city as long as the citizens want liquor and are willing to pay for it."

The chief said that no complaint given him on liquor being sold ever is ignored. "And we will continue to check every complaint, confiscating the liquor and making arrests in every such reported case where liquor is found and arrests can be made," he said.

Refers to Capone.

Chief Sturdivant said "Al Capone, who made the bulk of his money from bootlegging, is in the Atlanta federal penitentiary. But not for violation of the liquor law. He is there because he did not divide his illegal gain with the government in the form of income taxes."

"The only way to stop this bootlegging is to cut out the Capones who are reaping huge profits from the underworld sale to fill a tremendous demand, and put the supply under the control of legally authorized bodies which will strictly regulate the traffic. That would put the bootlegger out of commission, because he would not be able to compete with the good liquor which would be sold legally."

"As it stands, the liquor sold in Atlanta and other cities of Georgia is a menace to health. It is, in most cases, improperly made and not aged; and the person who drinks it is taking a desperate chance with his health. Under legal control, the persons who must have their liquor would only get a much better grade—and a pure product—but the state and the counties would reap a harvest in revenue."

"The Atlanta police department is doing the best it can under the law with the facilities at its command, but even the haul made several days ago when 2,000 gallons were seized and poured out makes but a small dent in the enormous traffic out of which bootleggers are getting rich while the public gets its liquor and the state and the counties go begging for revenue."

"Under the old system of legalized liquor in Georgia, after the saloons closed at 11 o'clock at night, it was practically impossible for anyone to buy a drink of liquor. There was

AMATEURS TO DEFEY SUNDAY BALL BAN

Millican may not favor them himself, he would be democratic enough to allow them after such a mandate from the voters.

"We propose to play those games as we are entitled to do. If cases are made, we'll all have some fun. The teams will be composed of men from various commercial establishments of Atlanta. One of the teams will be from the Black and White Cab Company and Sunday that team will face another such team, which has not yet been decided upon."

"I have the people of Atlanta want Sunday games and I do not believe the policemen will attempt to stop the games with the sentiment so overwhelmingly in favor of them."

In commenting on the row Key said:

"I, of course, have no authority to give permission for use of certain permits issued for the playing of baseball. I have enough troubles of my own without trying to run the park committee's business."

"But I would make myself ridiculous by helping to arrange professional games, if I refused the same privilege to amateur teams."

Text of Millican's letter to Key in the matter follows:

I noted with considerable interest the article which appeared in newspapers yesterday in regard to your giving authority for the amateur ball clubs to play in the city parks on Sunday. I am glad to hear that you are not interfering with amateur ball games on Sunday."

I presume that this of course applies to the city parks and not to the city's police department of the city of Atlanta which will carry out the law, and not allow baseball where permits have not been given."

The committee, as chairman of the park committee of council, does not expect, as long as he is chairman, to have any say in the playing of baseball in the city parks on Sunday."

I have many years of experience in regard to this, where baseball diamonds in residential sections, and it does not help the citizens living in the community to have 300 or 400 men playing baseball on Sunday afternoon at the half day."

I certainly do not believe that it is your purpose to interfere with the park committee and as long as that committee feels that Sunday baseball should not be allowed in the parks, then I do not believe that you should later with same. As far as I am chairman of the park committee, I will not be given for Sunday baseball."

no real incentive to bootleg the staff; people bought what they needed during the regular hours, and everything was orderly and regular.

"Today, under the city law on 3.2 per cent beer, you will find that none of the dealers are bootlegging whiskey over their counters, because violation of that ordinance means their licenses will be revoked. There is no profit in bootlegging the beer when it can be obtained legally at a low price and the revenue of the beer license puts that kind of dealer out of business."

The United States has spent billions of dollars in the enforcement of prohibition, and there appears to be just as much liquor in the country as before the dry act."

HAS ONLY FIFTY DEPUTIES
ALL TOLD, SAYS SHERIFF

Sheriff James J. Lowry, replying to the charge in the Civic Club report that "more than 100 deputies sheriff are never called on to aid this inadequate (police) force," said Thursday there are only 50 deputies, and with their many duties in attending the courts, operating the jail and serving papers, there are not "very many men to assign to the general enforcement of criminal laws."

"However, upon investigation," Sheriff Lowry said, "I find this small force of men has a remarkable record in the enforcement of criminal laws and that one-third of the state cases made in this county are made through the activities of the deputies sheriff."

Sheriff Lowry's statement is as follows:

My attention has been called to a story appearing in this morning's Constitution under the headline "Boykin, Civic Bodies, Hit Crime in City," in part which is as follows: "Atlanta has on active duty only one policeman for every 2,000 inhabitants, but more than 300 deputy sheriffs are never called on to aid this inadequate force."

This statement was reported to have been released by a committee selected to represent the Exchange, Citizen, Kiwanis, Advertising, Pilot, Quota and Women's Association of the Chamber of Commerce Clubs, and I am sure it was not the intention of such a fine body of men and women to mislead the public as to facts regarding the sheriff's office.

Instead of being 300 deputy sheriffs, there are only 50 deputy sheriffs, which are used in the operation of the jail, five superior courts, one city court, the criminal court of Atlanta, and serve all legal papers served in Fulton county, both criminal and civil, attend the grand jury, subpoena witnesses and jurors, transport prisoners from the jail to the courthouse and return, and from the jail to the state farm at Milledgeville, attend all condemned prisoners at the state farm, and actually with this inadequate force we would not have very many men to assign to the general enforcement of criminal laws. However, upon investigation, I find that this small force of men has a remarkable record in the enforcement of criminal laws and that one-third of the state cases made in this county are made through the activities of the deputy sheriffs.

I think that this is a remarkable record, under the circumstances. I can only refrain from asking you to make this correction in justice to my men, and will welcome an investigation on the part of the committee that made this report.

I desire, through this report, to assure the public that the sheriff's office stands at all times ready to co-operate with all law enforcement agencies to the fullest extent of their power.

WIRT SUBPOENAED TO HOUSE HEARING IN PROBE OF 'PLOT'

democrat, Michigan, who has been trying to get the house floor to make a speech against Wirt, failed to carry out his threatened filibuster today.

Democratic leaders asked him to desist so that legislative business could be carried on.

However, the Michigan democrat issued a statement taking issue with a statement attributed to Silas H. Strawn, prominent Chicago republican attorney, that Wirt "is the type of man needed to save this country from the intellectual jackasses in Washington."

"Presumably Strawn refers to members of the 'brain trust' when he speaks of intellectual jackasses," Foulkes said. "He is applying the term to the wrong people. The real intellectual jackasses are the defenders of a decadent economic system that means destitution and misery for millions while the real few revel in luxury."

"Strawn," Foulkes added, "does what every reactionary does and advocates what he thinks is 'good Americanism.' The workers and farmers of the United States want no more 'good Americanism' of that kind."

"TRUST" SEEKS OVERTHROW OF SOCIAL ORDER—WIRT

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP)—The "brain trust" says Dr. William A. Wirt in the fifth installment of his copyrighted pamphlet attacking registration as a means of economic recovery, depends upon propaganda as the means of overthrowing the present social order.

Issued by the self-designated committee for the nation, the latest installment of the Wirt dissertation is largely a repetition of the Gary educator's first charges of radicalism against the "brain trust" and read before a house committee in Washington by James H. Rand Jr., and which precipitated a congressional investigation.

TALMADGE ANTIS
TO MEET TONIGHT

was another general rumor that J. J. Mangham, of Bremen, resigned chairman of the state highway board, would announce his candidacy Sunday against Governor Talmadge if no other candidate agrees to make the race. Mr. Mangham has made no secret of his opposition to the governor, his former political friend, and Thursday it was said he is so determined that the governor will have opposition that he will furnish the opposition himself if it becomes necessary.

While the talk went the rounds, the governor pulled another of his surprises before departing for Columbus to spend the day when he let it be known he would not be present at the meeting of the state committee, which he controls and that he did not plan to attend the luncheon to be given immediately after the session by Chairman Hugh Howell.

The governor had been scheduled to speak at Mr. Howell's luncheon. Although in recent years the primary arrangements have been cared for by the rules committee of the full committee, the governor usually attended the luncheon following the session. During former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick's term the full committee and the governor were with it.

The governor gave no reason for passing up the committee session and luncheon except to say he had a "previous engagement."

Agadale To Retire.

This was the most startling actual news of the day, but it was greeted in interest by the announcement of Senator Susie T. Moore, of Tifton, that she will not enter the race for congress in her district, the second, in opposition to Congressman E. Eugene Cox. Mrs. Moore was one of the early arrivals for the committee session at which she is slated to be elevated to the vice chairmanship of the group, succeeding Mr. Mangham who resigned when he fell out with the governor and left the highway board.

Another veteran state leader took occasion while here Thursday to announce that he would retire to private life next January. He was Colonel S. W. Hagdale, of Dallas, solicitor-general of the Tallapoosa circuit for the last eight years. Colonel Hagdale said he would resume his private law practice at Dallas at the conclusion of his present term and would not offer for re-election. During his eight years as solicitor-general, Colonel Hagdale has attained state-wide reputation. Among other cases he prosecuted the Hulseys, father and son, for the murders of three men in a poker game near Rockmart several years ago.

The general consensus about the closing date for entries in the primary Tuesday continues to fix the date as May 5. It is expected, however, that the committee will be governed by the wishes of the chairman who has not yet made known those wishes.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrected His Constipation

If you are troubled by common constipation, read this letter:

"Just a word in appreciation of what your ALL-BRAN has done for my health. For years, I had been doing myself with pills and other dopes for constipation."

"I decided to try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Now I am in good health, and haven't taken a drop of medicine for six months."—Thos. F. Little, 554 E. Wheeling St., Lancaster, Ohio.

Headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness—any one of these may be caused by common constipation. Yet this condition can be corrected, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to help promote regularity. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much safer than patent medicines! Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal.

If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green packages. Get ALL-BRAN and not a part-bran product. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO.

Military Review at Ft. McPherson To Feature Army Day Observance

Today is Army Day, and both the regulars and the national guardsmen of north Georgia will join to put on one of the greatest peace-time reviews ever witnessed at Fort McPherson, a review which officers said Thursday would rival the famous display made here for General Pershing on his visit to Atlanta after his return from France in 1918.

The commander of the regulars, Major General George V. H. Moseley, and the commander-in-chief of the guard, Governor Eugene Talmadge, will review the full field display at 4 o'clock this afternoon, which will climax the day's observance.

The big review will follow a polo game which is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock and will precede a supper at which the regulars will be hosts to the national guard troops and the officers at Fort McPherson will entertain the guard officers.

With General Moseley and the governor on the reviewing stand will be Brigadier General James H. Reeves, commander of the fourth coast artillery district; Brigadier General Robert O. Van Horn, commander of Fort McPherson; Adjutant General Lindley W. Camp, Mayor James L. Key, Clark Howell, John S. Cohen and Herbert Porter.

The regular army troops in the parade will be commanded by Colonel Thomas S. Moorman, commanding officer of the Twenty-second infantry, and the guardsmen will be commanded by Colonel Thomas L. Alexander, commanding officer of the 122d infantry, Georgia National Guard.

Attendance Figures Gaining, Food Show Plans Big Climax

With steadily mounting attendance figures, making it the most successful food show the company ever held here, the Rogers Food Show will move toward its brilliant climax Saturday night.

The attendance figures to date are well over 100,000, and the visitors have been enthusiastic since the start.

Today's show will have all the regular features, including the cooking school, the vaudeville show, the music by orchestra, and the distribution of free souvenirs.

Ladies of the Atlanta Woman's Club and the Junior League will again participate today in the show's activities. It is expected that the show will net a substantial sum for the charities to be designated later.

Mrs. Thornton Fincher and Mrs. Harry Poole will be co-chairmen this afternoon and the following will serve on committees:

Mrs. Arthur Hazard, Mrs. W. S. Askew, Mrs. Alonso Richardson, Mrs. George Berry, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. Gordon Singleton, Mrs. L. W. Rogers, Mrs. C. A. Rhodes, Miss Ellen Rhodes.

also will observe the day with a special flying demonstration by airmen under command of Lieutenant R. H. Brown.

Fort McPherson will hold open house all day, with visitors invited to inspect all quarters including the C. C. C. training camp.

KING ESTATE LEFT TO WIFE, CHILDREN

Dean S. Paden Elected President of Hardware Company by Directors.

The will of the late George E. King, president of the King Hardware Company, who died on March 29, was filed in the ordinary's office Wednesday. No estimate of the value of the estate was given but the bulk is left to his wife and children.

Besides the business of the company he headed, Mr. King was principal owner of King Realty Company.

The following will be on the committee: Mrs. James A. Greene, Mrs. C. E. Faust, Mrs. J. Guy Williams, Mrs. Charles Hartfield, Mrs. Claude McGinnis, Mrs. Cliff Collins, Mrs. Fred Creswell, Mrs. J. R. Bachman.

Mrs. David Mitchell and Mrs. Ben Purse will be co-chairmen Saturday night.

The following will be on the committee: Mrs. Virgil Warren, Mrs. V. Dunn, Mrs. B. F. Holtzendorf, Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, Mrs. M. L. Throver, Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mrs. J. Douglas Swaggerty, Mrs. Frederick C. Rice.

Saturday will be a specially brilliant day, for then the entertainment features will be specially stressed, and that night the souvenir gifts will be distributed.

The attractively decorated and stocked booths of the food show continue to excite the interest of the crowd.

Healthy Upturn in Business Is Noted by Jack I. Straus

JACOBS STORES OPEN ANNIVERSARY SALE

A fifty-fifth anniversary sale was begun Thursday by the Jacobs drug stores in celebration of the fifty-fifth anniversary of the organization.

Founded by the late Dr. Joseph Jacobs, associate of Dr. Crawford Long, the 18 stores are now managed by Sinclair Jacobs, son of the founder, and William T. Rich.

Dr. Jacobs first entered business in Athens, but later moved to Atlanta and opened his first store at the corner of Five Points now occupied by the First National bank and the main Jacobs store.

Coca-Cola was given its first test in that store in 1886 by Dr. J. S. Pemberton over the Venable soda fountain, one of the first in the south.

Dr. Jacobs first introduced the custom of trading in pennies, by which he inaugurated cut prices in the retail drug business.

Dr. Jacobs and Dr. Crawford W. Long were associated in introducing many standard southern remedies which at first were sold only in Jacobs stores and which now are regular medicine-chest standbys in the third and fourth generations of the families which first used them.

The Jacobs Pharmacy's growth has continued steadily throughout the years until now stores are located conveniently in every section of Greater Atlanta. All stores will participate in the anniversary observance.

Vice President of R. H. Macy and Company Visits City to Confer With Davison-Paxon Executive.

A healthy upturn in business for which he gave the government part of the credit, was noted Thursday by Jack I. Straus, vice president of R. H. Macy & Company, of New York. He was here to inspect the Davison-Paxon store, affiliate of Macy's.

Mr. Straus said that the government had done much to keep prices from rising to too high levels, and that recovery had been most marked in the south and the midwest, although better times are noted all over the country.

This is one of Mr. Straus' periodic visits to Atlanta, where he confers with Raymond A. Kline, vice president and general manager, on local operations.

"I am always glad to make these visits to Atlanta," he said. "I have many friends here, and the city itself has a great charm for me."

Mr. Straus is one of the youngest executives of a great business organization. But, although only 34 years of age, he has had 13 years' experience in the Macy organization, one of the largest in New York. He is the son of Jesse Laird Straus, an ambassador to France. Young Straus showed an early bent for the business and is following his father's footsteps as a retailer.

He began working for the Macy organization soon after his graduation from college, and his speedy advancement in the business followed due to his ability to solve managerial problems quickly and successfully.

Mr. Straus recently returned from a trip to the West Indies and looked fit after his recreation, to tackle the business problems before him.

He spent Thursday going over details of the Davison organization with Mr. Kline, of his friend. He expects to be in Atlanta for several days.

Georgia Fields And Streams By H. A. Carter.

Something of whirlwind proportions descended upon me this past 24 hours. The first thing that happened was announced by telephone last night about 7:30 p. m. that Harry Jopson, of Cornell University, who was touring around the country collecting material for a thesis on the variation and life histories of the salamanders in the mountains of Georgia and Florida, and will doubtless have many hundreds more before he leaves Lake Cayuga again. He was on the way north, and when he got to my place about 8:00 last night, he wanted first of all to know where I got the big collection of salamanders in Rabun county. I gave the directions as well as I could, and then we settled down to examining specimens for several hours. After considerable time I managed to get him to go into his theories of distribution of the salamanders. It was most interesting.

This morning my startled vision beheld Dr. Max Peet, of the University of Michigan, in my office. Dr. Peet is on the way south, and expects to collect some boat-tailed grackles and some Alabama Towhees.

Dr. Peet is professor of brain surgery at the Michigan Medical school. His hobby is ornithology and if ever a man enjoyed a hobby Dr. Peet enjoys his. He told me all the news about people I knew in Ann Arbor, arranged to make some exchanges, and then dashed off to get a collecting permit.

I learned from him that Walter Koelz, who makes the finest bird skin I have ever had the pleasure of seeing, was back at the Himalayan Research Foundation at Punjab, I believe. I could not swear to the exact location of the station. At any rate, Koelz has just brought the total number of bird skins that he shipped from the Himalayas to Michigan up to 5,000. Think of having 5,000 specimens of the hardest birds on earth to approach and study all in one collection! The University of Michigan is to be congratulated on securing these skins, for it is doubtless the largest collection of Himalayan bird life in existence.

All in all, there have been some very refreshing breaths out of the past. If I haven't a museum now, at least I can work that much harder to get one. Who will make the first contribution?

L. O. CROSBY TO HEAD SOUTHERN PINE GROUP

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 5.—(AP)—L. O. Crosby, of Piquette, Miss., today was re-elected without opposition as president of the Southern Pine Association, in annual session here.

Others named, similarly without opposition, were E. L. Kurth, Rejoys, Texas, first vice president; S. E. Moreton, Brookhaven, Miss., second vice president, and H. C. Berckes, of New Orleans, secretary-manager.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Roid, the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. A. Leobardus was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—had circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr. Leobardus' discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when Jacobs Drug Stores and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe, clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money back."—(adv.)

The New Aid in Preventing Colds..

THE next time your child sniffs or sneezes, don't wait for a cold to develop, mother. At that first "a-choo"—immediately apply Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. Use in time—and help your little ones to avoid many colds entirely.

Especially designed for nose and upper throat... where 3 out of 4 colds start... Vicks Nose Drops aid and gently stimulate the functions provided by Nature to prevent colds.

Just a few drops up each nostril! Vicks Nose Drops penetrate deep into the nasal passages... reduce swollen membranes... soothe irritation. They help keep the nasal passages clear. They help Nature fight off the cold that threatens.

Don't confuse Vicks Nose Drops with mere "oil drops." Vicks Drops give you real medication—yet are absolutely safe—for children and adults alike.

To relieve a sore, irritated throat, gargle with the new Vicks Vaseline Antiseptic—the better gargle and mouth-wash at a big saving.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better CONTROL of Colds

You'll find Vicks Nose Drops very convenient. Easy to use—any time, any place. Keep a bottle always handy, and help your family to side-step many colds altogether.

If a cold has developed, use medication that goes direct to the seat of trouble. The unique Direct Double Action of Vicks VapoRub ends a cold sooner. Acting directly through the skin like a poultice, VapoRub "draws out" soreness, relieves congestion. At the same time, its medicated vapors are inhaled direct to inflamed air passages, bringing soothing relief. Each treatment gives this unique two-way medication... hour after hour!

VICKS VAPORUB

Vengeance as Motive For 'Massacre' Probed

BREMERTON, Wash., April 5.—(AP)—Vengeance entered the Erland's Point mass murder case today as a possible motive for the slaying of six persons, when police said they were advised that one of the slain men had fatally wounded a Californian, whose brother swore to get revenge.

Bremerton officials said they were informed by the chief of police of Yakimas, Wash., that Eugene A. Chenevert, vaudeville performer, engaged in a fight some months ago in a California city, and that the other man subsequently died.

The brother of the dead man, said the Yakima officer, felt Chenevert was responsible, and "swore unrelenting vengeance." Both Chenevert and his wife died with four other persons in the Frank Flider home last week.

"Did you ever see Mr. Brown kiss her?" asked Whitney Smith, attorney for the actress who is known on the screen as Marjorie Gay.

"Yes, every time he came out to the house. Did I hear him speak of marriage? I think so but I'm not sure."

Mrs. Ethel Farwell, sister of the actress, and Jim Bridges, her brother, told a jury yesterday Brown was a frequent visitor at the Bridges home. Before she left the witness stand, Miss White, who claimed Brown killed her last September and married Sally Eilers, film player, collapsed in tears while reciting details of her asserted romance with Brown.

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(AP)—The family of Marjorie Whites came to her aid in superior court as she completed her testimony in her $100,000 breach of promise suit against Harry Joe Brown, film director.

Mrs. Jennie Bridges, mother of the actress, said the director called her "mother and sent me flowers on Mother's Day."

"The rest of the estate, including Mr. King's stock in the King Hardware Company, is left to his wife and children, share and share alike. A trust fund of $500 is set up for the care of cemetery lots and three special provisional and conditional bequests are made as follows:

To Mr. King's brother-in-law, T. E. Simmons, the sum of $30 a month; to his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. J. King, $35 a month, and to his cousin, Miss L. B. Artope, $30 a month.

The executors of the estate are Dean S. Paden, Claud C. Smith and W. Julian Thomas.

ACTRESS IS AIDED BY HER FAMILY IN LOVE BALM SUIT

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(AP)—The family of Marjorie Whites came to her aid in superior court as she completed her testimony in her $100,000 breach of promise suit against Harry Joe Brown, film director.

Mrs. Jennie Bridges, mother of the actress, said the director called her "mother and sent me flowers on Mother's Day."

"Did you ever see Mr. Brown kiss her?" asked Whitney Smith, attorney for the actress who is known on the screen as Marjorie Gay.

"Yes, every time he came out to the house. Did I hear him speak of marriage? I think so but I'm not sure."

Mrs. Ethel Farwell, sister of the actress, and Jim Bridges, her brother, told a jury yesterday Brown was a frequent visitor at the Bridges home. Before she left the witness stand, Miss White, who claimed Brown killed her last September and married Sally Eilers, film player, collapsed in tears while reciting details of her asserted romance with Brown.

—what it means

—to keep on hand 350,000 bales of Turkish tobacco to add something to the taste

So important is Turkish tobacco in the Chesterfield blend that we maintain a modern up-to-date tobacco factory in the far-off city of Smyrna.

Turkish tobacco adds something to the taste and aroma of a cigarette that no other tobacco can give.

It means something that Chesterfield always has in storage upwards of 350,000 bales of this aromatic Turkish leaf.

This Turkish tobacco is blended and cross-blended with ripe mild home-grown tobaccos to give Chesterfields a taste and aroma that is not like other cigarettes.

Everything that money can buy is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

Army Flyer Is Killed In Pennsylvania Crash

ALTOONA, Pa., April 5.—(AP)—Second Lieutenant John Leland McAlister, of Langley Field, Va., crashed into the side of a hill in his army pursuit plane late today and was killed. A log found in the clothing of his badly mangled body showed the army officer left Langley Field this morning, apparently en route to Cleveland, landed at Bolling Field, left there at 2:15 p. m. and made a stop at Mid-dletown, Pa., at 3 p. m.

Service papers showed McAlister was 26 years old and had signed up for five years in the army reserve flying corps on February 24, 1933.

Conferees Will Get Bankhead Measure

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—The senate today agreed to send the Bankhead cotton control bill to a committee of senate and house representatives to adjust difference between the two branches.

Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina; Bankhead, democrat, Alabama; and Capper, republican, Kansas, were named conferees.

The house already had taken that action.

NEW JERSEY FLOAT WINS IN PARADE AT ST. PETERSBURG

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 5.—(AP)—New Jersey float first place in the Festival of States float parade here this afternoon, viewed by thousands who were "nassed" deep over the long line of the procession. New York was given second honors and Ohio third.

The New Jersey entry was a blaze of gold, led by the state's queen mounted high upon a golden throne, her three little attendants, tanned a deep brown, seated upon papier mache sea horses. The New York float depicted the Byrd arctic expedition to the south pole.

Miss Vesta Jane Stokes, Portland, Maine, queen of the festival, greeted her subjects from her magnificent throne place high upon a flower-blanked float at the head of the long pagany procession, escorted by a platoon from the United States coast guard, American Legion, flag bearers and students of the Florida Military school.

Canadian Pullet Lays 153 Eggs in 154 Days

AGASSIZ, B. C., April 5.—(AP)—A world record of 153 eggs in 154 days was claimed today for two Barred Plymouth Rock pullets participating in the annual egg-laying contest of the dominion experiment farm here.

Pullet No. 3, owned by the Delta Land Company, of Vancouver, laid 150 eggs in 150 consecutive days. She missed laying on the 151st day, and tied with No. 2, owned by A. Pennington, of Agassiz.

GRAIN EXPERTS STUDY MEANS TO AID PRICES

ROME, April 5.—(AP)—The world carryover of wheat on August 1, 1934, will be 1,100,000,000 bushels—the same as the carryover for the 1933-1934 agricultural year are optimistic regarding the reduction of wheat stocks and acreage.

This information was contained in a communique issued tonight by the world wheat advisory committee after a long session devoted to reports and plans for bettering the international wheat situation by lowering supplies and encouraging consumption.

The report came near the end of the day's session in which representatives of nations reported progress in considering an eight-part program for pushing wheat out of the doldrums. They heard Andrew Cairns, secretary of the international wheat commission, explain previous attempts to raise wheat prices by reducing acreage and creating a keener demand, and then discussed economic accounts of efforts by individual countries.

John Van A. Mac Murray, American minister to the Baltic countries, presided over the initial session of the conference, which is expected to last a week more.

These proposals were on the program: Set minimum prices for export wheat.

Discourage government financial assistance to wheat growers. Withdraw low quantities of wheat from human use by denaturing them and feeding them to live stock.

Increase the consumption of wheat by decreasing the percentage of flour extracted from it.

Permit future exports of denatured wheat as outside export quotas.

A campaign to better the quality of bread.

Cut wheat for hay and green feed.

Make wheat more available to countries which at present use it but little.

Several delegates also prepared to suggest a modification of the export quotas agreement reached at a world wheat conference in London last August.

A French proposal that wheat importing countries receive compensations in trade for agreeing to cut wheat acreage was advanced last night and was due for early consideration. Thirty-five delegates attended the opening meetings today and this evening. They are from the United States, England, France, Germany, Canada, Australia, Argentina and eight smaller countries.

A proposal to change the length of the London export agreement from one year to three months was offered with the idea that it would enable more frequent adjustment quotas in conformity with internal and world grain conditions.

U. S. Attitude on Arms Still Worries Europe

LONDON, April 5.—(AP)—The stand the United States would take if an attempt were made to push a European violator of a disarmament treaty was the concern today of British and League of Nations diplomats who conferred with American Ambassador Norman H. Davis.

Before Great Britain is willing to commit herself on proposals for punitive military and economic action she is interested in knowing if the United States would at least not interfere.

Any hope that a French demand for such guarantees will be universally acceptable was regarded as futile in British quarters, but on the other hand it was not clear how sanctions could otherwise be applied.

Three Draw Fines For Drunken Driving

A. J. Chaffin, of 1396 North Fulton street, Hapeville, drew a $50 fine and six months' probation in city criminal court Thursday on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Edgar Williams was fined $50 and got 12 months' probation, and A. S. Oxenham, of 304 Capitol avenue, was fined $50 on similar charges. Chaffin and Williams were restricted from driving.

ROOSEVELT ASKS STORY RETRACTION ON FISHING LUCK

MIAMI, Fla., April 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's pride as a fisherman has been hurt and he called today for a retraction of a story told by his son, Elliott, that he wasn't catching any fish.

Vincent Astor, owner of the yacht Nourmahal carrying the president in formed Marvin H. McIntyre, presidential secretary here that Mr. Roosevelt had told over the radio account of Elliott's story and was demanding a "special committee to investigate and secure retraction."

Astor said 22 fish were hauled yesterday but he didn't say how many of these were caught by the president. Elliott upon his return from the Nourmahal Tuesday night said that his father was having no luck.

The Nourmahal weighed anchor from Elbow Key today to proceed to Cayal, 20 miles distant.

"All well and happy," reported Astor. "Sitting around radio heard Lowell Thomas relate Elliott's gross lie on president's fishing luck. He said appoint special committee to investigate, secure retraction."

A naval plane is now making daily runs to the Nourmahal from here, carrying important mail for consideration of Mr. Roosevelt.

THREE APPOINTMENTS ARE MADE TO E. H. F. A.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 5.—(UP)—Three important appointments in the Electric Home and Farm Authority, subsidiary of the Tennessee Valley Authority, were announced today by David E. Lilienthal, director on the TVA and president of the EHFA.

They were: George D. Munger, head of development of domestic consumption in the Tennessee Valley area; William B. Phillips, assistant to Lilienthal; Forrest Allen, director of press relations and publications.

INTERMYER BACKS MARKET CONTROL

Committee Witness Appeals for Greater Power for Regulatory Groups.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—The stock market control bill is by no means perfect, Samuel Untermyer told the senate committee today, but nevertheless it would be "nothing short of a catastrophe if it should fail of enactment."

With the vigor characteristic of his direction of the Pujio money trust investigation in 1913, Untermyer urged amendments generally removing rigid restrictions and increasing the discretionary power of regulatory groups.

"We have gone on, too many years with a great financial institution a law unto itself," he said. "Let's get this bill in the best shape possible, but don't let it fail because of the vicious propaganda directed against it."

The committee reopened its public hearings to receive the views of Untermyer, who for many years has been an exponent of stock exchange regulation. With its next meeting it expects to resume consideration of the bill in executive session.

Pecora's Draft.

The day also saw the appearance of a second revised draft of the bill, drawn by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, and his associates. It too was designed to decrease the hard and fast rules of the bill and expand discretionary authority.

While Untermyer urged that the margin requirements be left to the federal reserve board, with that body's membership increased to handle the new responsibility, Pecora's draft contained the 60 per cent cash margin requirement of the old measure, with certain optional provisions.

Untermyer suggested that three new members be appointed to the reserve board by the president, and that the latter create a special division within the board to take charge of administering the margin section. "We all know how busy the board is," he said.

After Untermyer's remark about "vicious propaganda," Chairman Fletcher interrupted to say that his mail and that of many other senators had been filled with letters, some of them threatening political defeat if the bill passed.

Pecora, who, of course, is not a member of the senate, remarked that he too had received letters threatening him with defeat when he runs for re-election. Charges of an organized propaganda campaign have arisen repeatedly since the bill came up.

Target of Strong Drive.

In a letter to Fletcher urging enactment, President Roosevelt himself said the measure had been made the target of the most highly organized opposition drive of any recommendation he has sent to Capitol Hill.

Untermyer said the bill's margin requirements provided a "false basis for determining the margin of safety for a loan." On some stocks, a high margin was virtually mandatory, he said, referring to issues with rapidly changing quotations, while on other more stable securities a lower margin was perfectly proper.

"On this proposition, strange to say, I find myself in agreement with the stock exchange authorities as to each class of security should be left to the determination of the federal reserve board. Those requirements will necessarily be shifting almost from day to day."

The desire that prompts this drastic requirement is one with which everyone outside of the financial district will sympathize. But this does not accomplish that purpose. It seems to me that it is bound to have the contrary effect of deflating the market value of the highest classes of securities by placing them on a par with the most speculative class as to their availability as collateral, which is far from the purpose you have in mind."

Bill By Hastings.

Meanwhile, a bill to modify the securities act by strictly limiting the liabilities under that law was introduced by Senator Hastings, republican, Delaware.

Hastings contended the liabilities in the act were "out of proportion to the reasonable responsibility which should be required," and that they "ignore certain well-accepted legal principles."

His bill would modify liabilities to require the purchase of stock to show that he relied on the registration statement or prospectus that he claimed was false.

It also would limit liability of underwriters to purchasers who buy from them or in reliance on their name and would permit underwriters to rely on statements of competent officers or experts.

Hastings said his amendment would make the liabilities in the securities act similar to, but still more severe than, those imposed by the British companies act.

More Complete Movement NO BOWEL ABUSE

To banish logginess, headaches and other constipation ills, just cleanse your bowels of putrid waste with Feen-a-mint, the delicious chewing gum laxative that gives complete and thorough movement.

It does this because you chew. Chewing distributes the laxative ingredient of Feen-a-mint uniformly throughout the intestines to give you a "full," more natural movement. That's why Feen-a-mint is more complete, more thorough. That's why it never shocks the system nor abuses the bowels. It is safe and gentle and non-irritating. Feen-a-mint because of its more modern action eliminates any necessity of experiencing that delay that sees start of putrid wastes seeping their poisons into your system.

"Delay" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at druggists.

LIMIT ON CROP LOANS PROTESTED BY PARKER
Liberalization of Rules Will Be Sought by Georgian on House Floor.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—Informed the crop production office would not liberalize its loans to farmers tilling insurance and loan company lands, Representative Parker, democrat, Georgia, said today he would carry the matter to the house floor. The Georgian declared the administration of production loans was attempting through various regulations to defeat the purpose of the loan law. In Toombs county, Georgia, he pointed out, two insurance companies owned 99 farms and the renters from each company could borrow all together only $750, the maximum allowed the tenants of one landlord under the pro-

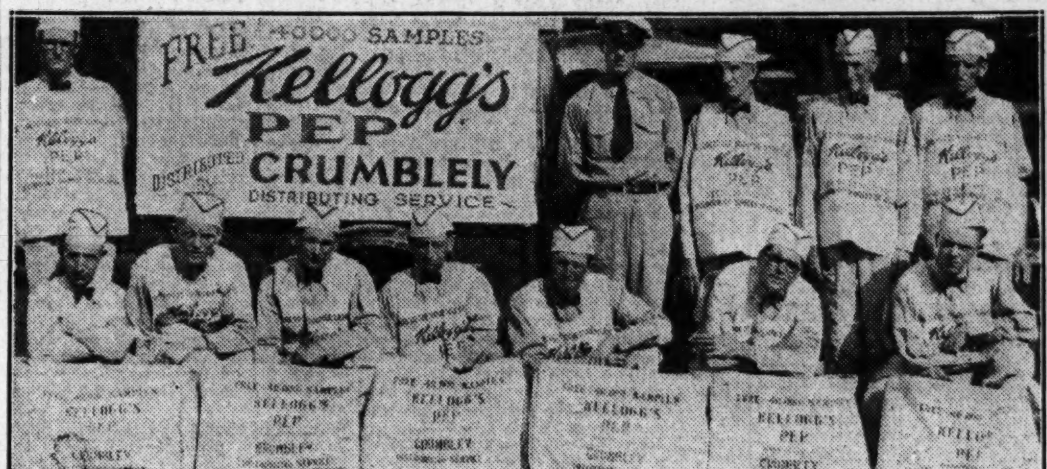

TWO WOMEN KILLED IN BOLIVIAN RIOTS
LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 5.—(AP)—Two women were killed in a short-lived revolution of a group of military cadets here today. The cadets made a surprise attack on police stations, occupying them and firing at carabinieri from the windows of the buildings. For several hours a virtual battle raged in the streets. General Jose Lanza, appointed chief of the La Paz garrison, visited the headquarters of the revolution and talked them into a peaceful surrender. He said this condition was general throughout the south, where insurance and loan companies have taken over numerous small farms. Renters from such companies, he asserted, were not share-croppers and should be classified for crop production loan purposes as other independent farmers, who may obtain a maximum individual loan of $250 each. He said that in many instances the farmers renting from insurance and loan companies were former owners of the land who lost their property on mortgages during the depression in cotton prices.

Communists Taboo All Frivolity As Convention Is Held in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, April 5.—(NANA) Even Dr. William Wirt would have a difficult time discovering that the communist party was holding forth in convention here this week. It is one of the most quiet, unobtrusive conventions this convention city ever has entertained. On the inside of their secret sessions there may be plenty of discussion of revolutionary technique, but there is no parading, shouting or exhortation on the street. The 500 delegates are meeting in a renovated old residence on a third-rate business street on the edge of the downtown district. Between sessions delegates may be found in the "workers' book shop," freshly stocked with revolutionary literature, or at the "workers' school," upstairs next door. There are no banquets, no parties, no convention frivolity of any sort in connection with this meeting of the representatives of the proletariat. This revolution business is a grim, serious matter with them all. "What do you do between sessions?" one delegate was asked. "We sleep, of course," said the delegate, a lean, gray-looking man in a last year's overcoat. "We had a meeting in the morning, in the afternoon and until midnight. We were pretty tired." Almost all the delegates are housed at the homes of Cleveland members of the party. A few of the leaders are staying at some of the cheaper hotels, but not many. A good many of the delegates left home, and they come from 41 states of the Union, with barely bus fare and money for meals. Some did not have even that. There are a few young, pretty girls at the convention, a few men who look like wild-eyed revolutionaries and a few who look complacently middle-class, negroes and whites of all nationalities, fraternizing as "comrades."

TRAVEL IN RUSSIA MADE EASY, CLUB SPEAKER ASSERTS

The second phase of the Russian "five-year plan" in a general way has been remarkably successful, but the present-day visitor to that country will probably never hear it mentioned, George W. Seaton, of New York, representative of Intourist, official soviet travel agency in the United States, told a luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Foreign Trade and Travel Club at the Atlanta Athletic Club. "All of those concerned with the smooth functioning of the gigantic undertaking are ardently and quietly doing their part," he said. "However, the tourist will doubtless find an opportunity to make inquiries about it." The government-operated travel agency, Intourist, the speaker explained, is one of the most unique organizations of its kind in existence, and it provides every possible facility for the pleasure of travelers visiting Russia. "Guides employed by the agency, and most of them are women," he said, "are sent for four years to a special college of instruction. Following graduation they are admirably equipped to conduct visitors on intelligent and interesting tours in any part of the country."

Adult Flapper Curse Assailed by Poling

ATHENS, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, tonight told the religious welfare conference at the University of Georgia that the "great trouble with this generation is not with the young flapper but with the adult flapper." Speaking at the closing session of the conference, Dr. Poling said: "The young people of today, after giving due account to all their delinquencies, which are frequently sad and terrible, are as intrinsically fine and fundamentally forthright as they have ever been."

SAVANNAH'S EXPORTS GAIN 142 PER CENT

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Exports for the port of Savannah for March this year show a gain of 142 per cent over those of March, 1933, and figures for the nine months of the present fiscal year indicate a gain of over 50 per cent over the similar preceding nine months. March, 1934, export values were $1,229,662, while those of March, 1933, totaled $506,634. Nine months of the fiscal year 1933-1934, ending with March, had exports amounting to $17,055,915, while for the same period in the fiscal year of 1932-1933 they amounted to $11,197,001, or a gain of $5,761,917.

LAURA INGALLS' HOP INTERRUPTED BY RAIN

BAHIA, April 5.—(AP)—A rainstorm turned Laura Ingalls, United States aviatrix, back to Belmonte, a little town 300 miles south of here, today on her projected hop from Rio de Janeiro to Bahia. She plans to leave for Bahia tomorrow.

Minor Strikes Start In Automobile Field

DETROIT, April 5.—(AP)—A walk-out in one automotive parts plant, threat of another walkout by tool and die makers in job plants, continued efforts by the national automobile labor board to end a strike in one automobile company's plants and a reiteration by Henry Ford of his belief that rising prices will handicap recovery were developments today in the automobile-labor situation. The strike was in the Mack avenue plant of the Motor Products Corporation, where labor leaders said 1,000 men had walked out because wage increases had been refused. At almost the same time Matthew Smith, general secretary of the Mechanics Educational Society, said tool and die makers employed in job shops would take a strike vote on Saturday unless wage increases are agreed to. Meanwhile at Racine, Wis., the automobile labor board was in its third day of hearings on the strike of 4,600 workers of the Nash Motors Company and an affiliate.

LETTER TELLS MAYOR WORLD NEARING END

Mayor James L. Key and council had many hard nuts to crack, many problems to solve and many crises to avert, but Thursday they got their biggest order. Fred Heilman, of Johnstown, Pa., notified the mayor that the world is coming to an end, and asked Key to inform council of the impending universal holocaust. In the same mail, Key received a letter from Oscar Turner, of Greenville, S. C., offering to sell his body as a human for "a little money and some pleasure." Key facetiously put the end of the world communication up to council asserting: "We have had everything else to contend with, and have been only reasonably successful. I wonder what we can do about this?"

HIGHWAY PIRATES TAKE $25,000 CIGARET CARGO

BOWLING GREEN, Va., April 5.—(AP)—Two men found handcuffed to a tree near this morning said they were the victims of a hijack gang which had taken a truck loaded with $25,000 worth of cigarettes from them. The pair identified themselves as I. H. Paxson, of Norfolk, Va., and Sam H. Young, of Winston-Salem, N. C. They said six or seven men, armed with machine guns, trapped them on a road between Norlina and Weldon, N. C., at 3:30 a. m. today as they were en route from Winston-Salem to Norfolk. The gang unloaded the tobacco and placed the two truckmen in the empty van. Hours later they were handcuffed to a tree, their eyes bound with adhesive tape and abandoned.

SOUTHERN PINE GROUP RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—(AP)—The nineteenth annual meeting of the Southern Pine Association came to the close of a three-day session late today with the re-election of all officers and many of its board of directors. Six hundred manufacturers of southern pine, most of them operators of small sawmills scattered throughout the south, attended the session. Delegates today approved without debate a committee's resolution opposing any further increase in wages or shortage of hours for mill employees. The committee voted not to recommend such a policy, contending present conditions in the lumber market do not warrant it. Directors elected included: Georgia—N. P. Pope, Washington; J. H. Rugh, Lumber City; H. Dixon Smith, Columbus.

ELEVEN MOHAMMEDANS SLAIN IN BULGARIA

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 5.—(AP)—Eleven Bulgarian Mohammedans were killed today by frontier guards as they attempted to cross into Greece near Daridere. Guards said the Mohammedans fired first after ignoring many orders to halt. The victims belong to a group called "pomaks" and were said to have been incited to leave Bulgaria secretly through propaganda conducted recently by "certain Turkish groups."

WOMEN OF DEKALB SPONSOR MEETING IN DECATUR TODAY

Citizens attending the mass meeting to be sponsored by the DeKalb County League of Women Voters at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Decatur courthouse will be given an opportunity of registering at the meeting while the subject is still fresh in their minds, it was announced Thursday. Governor Eugene Talmadge will be one of the principal speakers. In keeping with the organization's "register and vote" campaign, a county registrar will be present at the meeting to receive registrations of voters. The Young Democrats Club of DeKalb county is co-operating in the campaign, and Tax Commissioner H. H. Howard has arranged to handle an increase in voters' registrations. Mrs. Augustus Roan, president of the league, said. Speakers will include County Commissioner C. A. Matthews; Miss Carolyn Russell, sister of Senator Russell; Miss Peggy Kump, daughter of the governor of West Virginia, and Mrs. Wallington Stevenson, president of the Georgia league.

IZZIE BASHINSKI, 58 PASSES IN DOUGLAS

Secretary of State Board of Regents Succumbs to Angina Pectoris.

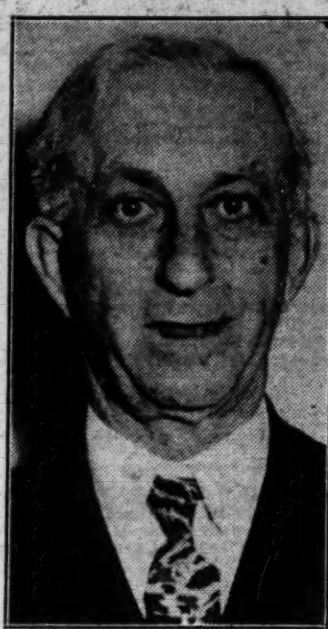

DOUGLAS, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Izzie Bashinski, secretary of the state board of regents, and former mayor and prominent businessman of Dublin, Ga., died here today from an attack of angina pectoris.

Services will be conducted from the home at Dublin at 11 a. m. tomorrow with Rabbi I. E. Marcusson, of Macon, and Dr. C. D. Graves, of the First Baptist church, of Dublin, officiating. Burial will be in the North View cemetery at Dublin.

Physicians were summoned about midnight last night to the home of J. H. McLean, tobacco warehouseman, where Bashinski was a guest following his arrival from Tifton, Ga. Before a doctor arrived Bashinski had died. Apparently he was in good health before the attack.

In addition to his wife he is sur-

Mrs. Bashinski, his wife, long has been prominent in women's organizations in the state, and has served as president of the Georgia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Cason J. Callaway, chairman of the board of regents, expressed his regret over the death of Bashinski.

Mr. Callaway paid tribute to Bashinski's efficiency as secretary of the board of regents. He said business would prevent him from attending the funeral.

OLDER BOYS' MEET TO OPEN IN AUGUSTA

Approximately 200 Expected To Attend Annual "Y" Conference.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5.—Beginning with a luncheon session, the annual north Georgia older boys' conference will open its 1934 session here Friday night, with approximately 200 boys from 25 schools expected to attend.

The conference theme, which will be considered at all the sessions, is "Building a Better World." The president, Charles Hollingsworth, a student of Commercial High school, Atlanta, will preside.

Other officers of the conference are Holmes Neeb, Cartersville, vice president; Edward Guy Cole Jr., Newnan, secretary; and Brooks Sheldon, Atlanta, assistant secretary.

The principal speaker at the opening sessions will be Dr. L. D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church, Atlanta, who will bring to the boys a challenge to make the most of the opportunities afforded by the conference in preparing themselves to have a part in "Building a Better World."

During Saturday morning and afternoon the conference will be divided into five divisions, to give primary consideration to the following topics: (1) Better recreational life; (2) Better home and school life; (3) Better vocational life; (4) Better religious life; (5) Better Hi-Y clubs.

The conference is conducted under the direction of the Georgia council of the Y. M. C. A. of Georgia, of which Eugene R. Black, governor of the federal reserve board, is president, and H. W. Rohrer, of Atlanta, state executive secretary.

Speakers other than Dr. Newton and Mr. Rohrer are Dr. Lawton B. Evans, superintendent of schools of Augusta and Richmond county, who has the longest consecutive term of service of any superintendent of schools in the United States, who will address the group briefly Saturday morning, and Dr. Robert L. Rhodes, Augusta, who will speak Saturday night.

Among the group leaders are: E. C. Register, Augusta; J. K. Berry, J. G. Lewis, of Russell High, East Point; W. T. Forbes, general secretary, Y. M. C. A., Athens; J. F. Graham, East Junior High, Atlanta; L. A. Upshaw, boys' work secretary, Atlanta Central Y. M. C. A.; S. W. Graydon, of Murphy Junior High, Atlanta.

Persons in North Georgia that will be represented include Athens, Atlanta, Decatur, East Point, Calhoun, Cartersville, Commerce, Fairburn, Newnan, Rome, Snellville and Trion.

SON OF MACON JUDGE WEDS NEW YORK GIRL

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP)—Miss Josephine Shaw Stetson, daughter of Eugene William Stetson, of New York and Green Farms, Conn., was married today to Robert Plant Hatcher, of Hartford, Conn., son of Judge Marshall Felton Hatcher, of Port Valley, Ga., of Macon, Ga. The ceremony was performed in St. James' Episcopal church by the rector, the Rev. Horace W. B. Donagan.

Among the bride's attendants were her cousin, Mrs. Charles N. Wadsworth, of Macon; Miss Margaret Hatcher, of Macon; sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Sinclair Frederick, of Port Valley, Ga.; and Miss Eleanor Morris, of Philadelphia. Marshall Felton Hatcher Jr., of Macon, was the bride's best man.

The bride is a member of the Junior League. Her mother, who died in 1912, was the former Miss Josephine Shaw, of Baltimore, and her father is a vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatcher will live in Hartford.

ATHENS GIRL AWARDED MUNICH FELLOWSHIP

ATHENS, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Miss Pauline Hadaway, of Athens, has been awarded an exchange fellowship to the University of Munich by the Institute of International Education.

Miss Hadaway, who was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1933, is now teaching French and German at Bessie Tift College, in Forsyth. Miss Hadaway is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic societies, and was prominent in student affairs at the university.

GEORGIA TO STAY DRY, MRS. ARMOR DECLARES

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—"Georgia shall not go wet and will not let the individual buy the mere value of prohibition," Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, national lecturer for the W. C. T. U., told delegates to the South Georgia conference W. M. S. convention at Macon today.

Mrs. Armor placed the responsibility for local blocking of repeal in the state upon the shoulders of the delegates present.

MANAGER FRUSTRATES GOLF CLUB ROBBERY

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—A. L. Glisson, manager of a local golf course, today told police he frustrated an attempted holdup last night when he refused to unlock the club door to the bandits.

Glisson said the bandits tried to break down the door and he fired a pistol through the panels. He said they left when he fired.

MCDONALD WILL SEEK PUBLIC SERVICE POST

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Walter R. McDonald, who was ousted as Georgia public service commissioner last summer, says he is a candidate for "re-election." He announced he will oppose J. E. Daniel, of LaGrange, Talmadge appointee, in the September primary.

County Manager Government Urged Before Commissioners

ATHENS, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—The county-manager form of government today was recommended to Georgia along with the assumption of all police powers by the state, in an address by Paul Wager, University of North Carolina, to the Georgia Association of County Commissioners.

The two-day meeting, the first section of the Institute of Public Affairs of the University of Georgia, closed with the speech by Wager, Hamilton, state treasurer. Hamilton recommended a budget system for counties patterned after the state budget law.

Wager also urged re-organization of county government to meet changing rural conditions. He said the state could profit by county consolidations but "only the prospect of substantial economic gains will induce a county to surrender its identity."

Orville A. Park, of Macon, Bibb county representative in the state legislature, urged the adoption of the installment plan of tax paying, which he said would benefit the state and counties, the farmer and the businessman.

Both Wager and C. M. Strahan, Clarke county commissioner, favored the establishment of a state constabulary as one of the functions of counties that should be taken over along with all roads, the public health and schools. Strahan said, however, this could be done only by a constitutional amendment.

Speakers asked that the commissioners seriously consider the number of reforms proposed during the session between now and the time of the annual session of the commissioners early next month in Macon and do something about them at that time.

Wagner, in his recommendation for establishment of the county-manager government, said it was easier this way to have good government because "it elevates public administration to a profession; it illuminates the processes of government and fixes responsibility and it invites citizen interest, participation and support."

Reporting on the status of state finances, Treasurer Hamilton told the gathering that the Georgia Highway orders had kept $3,455,000 in the pockets of the people through a $3 automobile tag and reduction of the ad valorem tax rate from 5 to 4 mills.

Hamilton said that Georgia bonds today were held at a premium because of the small number outstanding and the present good condition of the state treasury, which he said was recently offered a premium for some of these bonds.

Orville Park said that the "alarming increase in tax delinquency, the plight of the taxpayer and the depleted state and other treasuries, demand a revision of our system and methods of collection and payment of taxes."

"The payment of taxes in installments would lessen the necessity of borrowing by the state and the counties as money would be coming in during the year, enabling the state and counties to pay their current expenses with current revenue."

Wager said "police protection is a function which no longer can be entrusted to local authorities. A selectively recruited and highly trained state police force with inter-state cooperation, must replace our locally elected sheriffs and constables."

He said the state should assume responsibility for the custody and treatment of all criminals. He termed the county jail a relic of frontier days and should have been discarded long ago.

POSTAL RECEIPTS GAIN 52% IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Ga., April 5.—Stepping ahead of increased bank deposits, the postoffice at Washington shows a gain of 52 per cent for the first quarter of 1934 over receipts for corresponding period of last year, according to Charles H. Orr, who assumed the postmastership just before the turn of the year.

The substantial increase is the greatest since the beginning of depression, despite the special stamp sale at the first incorporated town in the United States named for George Washington, on the occasion of his 200th birthday anniversary in 1932.

Valdosta Dry Raiders Use Tear Gas in Hunt

ALDOSTA, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Officers engaged in a drive against bootleggers here, used tear gas in an effort to obtain evidence of whiskey possession.

Armed with a search warrant, they entered the home of a woman on one of their clean-up raids. Patrolman Robert Kemp said the woman rushed toward a kitchen sink with a pitcher of whisky, intending to pour it into a tub full of water. A tear-gas cartridge was exploded by the police and the woman, unable to get rid of the evidence, hurled the pitcher across the room.

The woman was docketed on a charge of purchasing whisky and released under bond of $50. Police said they had been informed she was engaged in selling liquor.

LONG STRIDES MADE IN SAVINGS DEPOSITS

MACON, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Macon people are making long strides in this time last year, a survey of savings banks today disclosed.

Figures compiled by three banks show savings in Macon for the year more than a year ago and that savings accounts have increased $577,505 since the first of January this year.

E. L. Turner, manager of the Macon Credit Bureau, reported the number of uncollected accounts listed in his files is materially smaller than at this time last year, and that approximately 40 per cent more credit reports are being handled.

SAVINGS IN AUGUSTA SHOW $639,730 GAIN

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Savings deposits in Augusta's three banks show an increase of $639,730.38 for the first 13 months, a survey today disclosed.

The deposits stood at $6,656,191.84 for the three banks at the close of business Wednesday. On March 1, 1933, savings deposits were $6,016,460.96.

Bankers said checking accounts had increased even greater than savings deposits.

INCREASE IS SHOWN BY WASHINGTON BANK

WASHINGTON, Ga., April 5.—An increase of $100,000 in deposits is revealed by the statement of condition of Washington Loan and Banking Company, of Washington, D. AERIALIST BREAKS LEG IN CIRCUIS PRACTICE

MACON, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Sailing through the air in a somersault from one bar to another in the top of a circus tent, Charles Forrest, 27, of Hamilton, Ontario, lost his grip on the bar and dropped into a net. He landed with his whole weight on the right foot, breaking his leg.

Forrest was rehearsing an aerial act in Downie Brothers' circus. Surgeons said he would not troupe this season and that his career as an aerialist may be over.

GEORGIAN IS KILLED IN ALABAMA CRASH

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 5.—(AP)—J. W. Jiwright, 54, of Thomasville, Ga., died last night at a Montgomery hospital from injuries received in an automobile accident on the Birmingham highway near here Tuesday night.

The body was sent today to Thomasville for funeral service and burial there. Surviving are his wife and several children.

EXPERIMENTAL FORESTS APPROVED FOR STATE

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP)—Establishment of experimental forests in national forest lands in North Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Arkansas was announced today by F. A. Selco, chief of the forest service. They included the Toccoa experimental forest, Cherokee National forest, Georgia, 2,315 acres.

MACON LAUNCHES WAR ON SELLERS OF BEER

MACON, Ga., April 5.—(AP)—Beer was declared on Macon beer sellers this morning with the filing of a petition for injunction restraining the Atlantic Ice & Coal Corporation from continuing to store and sell malt liquors at a building on the Waterville road.

Earl W. Butler, new solicitor of city court, filed the petition, and although Judge Louis L. Brown declined to grant a temporary restraining order as requested, he issued a rule nisi directing the defendant to appear in court two weeks from today to show cause why the prayers of the complainant should not be granted.

Speakers Announced For Ga. Education Association Meeting

Georgia teachers and educators will attend the annual meeting of the Georgia Education Association to be held in Atlanta April 12-14. A number of national speakers and educators will be heard on the three-day program, beginning Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the city auditorium.

President Milton R. Little, of Louisville, Ga., will give the annual G. E. A. address on Thursday evening, followed by Miss Jessie Gray, president of the National Education Association. Of particular interest to the elementary teachers of Georgia public schools will be the departmental meeting in charge of Mrs. Nathan Moore, of Atlanta. These meetings will be held at the Wesley Memorial church with addresses, an open forum, and the results of a reading survey, as an added interest for the classroom teachers.

The annual luncheon of the Classroom Teachers' Association will be held at the roof garden of the Ansley hotel. The price is 75 cents per plate and reservations may be made during the convention.

Mrs. Moore announces that teachers of all elementary schools are invited to the program she has arranged for the elementary teachers meeting.

Atlanta Parent-Teacher Council Elects Mrs. Longino President

Mrs. Dick R. Longino was elected president of the Atlanta Parent-Teacher Council at the April meeting held yesterday at Rich's. Other officers elected were Mrs. Ralph McCalland, first vice president; Mrs. J. Elmer Slider, second vice president; Mrs. H. H. Allen, third vice president; Mrs. Percy A. Rich, fourth vice president; Mrs. Carrie Jewell, fifth vice president; Mrs. R. A. Long, sixth vice president; Mrs. J. H. Earnest, seventh vice president; Mrs. J. D. Thomas, recording secretary; Mrs. A. C. Spinks, corresponding secretary; Mrs. O. S. Knight, treasurer; Mrs. J. J. Cerniglia, historian; Mrs. E. B. Puchs, auditor, and Mrs. Byron Mathews, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Longino succeeds Mrs. Byron Mathews as head of this prominent organization composed of presidents and representatives of Parent-Teacher associations located in the Atlanta district. Mrs. Longino is well equipped to assume the leadership of the council as she is thoroughly familiar with all phases of parent-teacher work and she has served as president of the Morningside P.T.A. For over a year Mrs. Longino acted as chairman of the elementary section of the Atlanta P.T.A. Council and has been actively associated with other committee work sponsored by the council.

Mrs. Longino succeeds Mrs. Byron Mathews as president of the council, the latter having served faithfully and efficiently as the leader for the past two years.

66 I KNOW YOU CAN'T HELP
THE TIME OF MONTH, BUT YOU CAN HELP THE PAIN 99

It's old-fashioned to have painful periods, or even any discomfort at such a time. That's true, and it's just too bad for the girl who does not realize it. All you have to do is this: Watch the calendar. Just before your time, take a Midol tablet and drink a glass of water, and you may escape the expected pain entirely. If not, a second tablet should relieve it in seven to ten minutes. That is how rapidly this remedy works!

Midol relieves even those who have always had a difficult time. Relief is such that two tablets should see you through the worst day. Yet they contain no narcotic, nothing injurious. They're as harmless as the aspirin you take for an ordinary headache. But don't be fooled by ordinary pain tablets offered as a specific for menstrual pain! Midol is a special medicine, for this special purpose. Your druggist has it on the counter—or just ask for Midol.

Miss Baker and Mr. Jackson Honored at Series of Parties

Miss Thelma Baker, whose marriage to Barclay Jackson will be an event of April 14, is being honored at a number of parties. Miss Stanley W. Hall honored Miss Baker with a luncheon at her home on Peachtree road, and contests featured the entertainment, prizes being won by Miss Ruth Akin and Mrs. Guilford Campbell. Tea was served and the lace-covered table had as its central decoration a silver bowl holding peach blossoms and baby's breath, flanked with silver candelsticks holding pink and white tapers. The guest list included Mesdames Jeff MacMillan, William Boudler, Carleton Kimberly, W. A. Phillips and Guilford Campbell and Misses Ruth Akin, Hilda Faust and Anne Kaggadee.

On Sunday afternoon Miss Baker shared honors with Miss Frances Phillips, a bride-elect, at the tea given by C. E. Williams and George Coban. Assisting the hosts in entertaining were Mesdames Nona Wadsworth, Peggy McCollough and Mrs. Estelle Forbes. The exquisitely set table was overlaid with a lace cloth, showered with ribbon streamers and miniature wedding bells.

Mr. and Mrs. Straus Are Honor Guests

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jack Straus of New York city, who are numbered among the prominent April visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Kline entertained at a buffet supper on Thursday evening at Bellemeade, their home on Peachtree Battle avenue.

Easter lilies and red carnations beautified the interior of the house, and the exquisitely appointed table in the dining room was graced with a crystal bowl, filled with yellow snapdragons and Easter lilies. Crystal candelsticks holding yellow tapers encircled the centerpiece and the yellow and white motif was reflected in the mint and bon-bons.

Mrs. Straus was gowned in black tulle and Mrs. Kline wore a costume of red and white. An informal dance followed the buffet supper, the music being furnished by a well-known orchestra.

Things That Make Women Pre-Beautiful

By MIGNON.

(Poised by Adrienne Ames)

One of the chief complaints during cold weather is dry skin. So many requests for some aid come from those who get no relief from ordinary measures. The cold weather, coupled with a daily bath, results in something like a dry leaf in the late fall.

One remedy that seems to work in extreme cases is the mineral oil bath. If you dislike the idea of a heavy mineral oil or its regular scent you can pour two-thirds of a cupful of the oil into a bowl and add a teaspoonful of rose toilet water. Then use a very soft cloth, a piece of gauze or a wad of cotton, just as you would a wash rag, and rub your skin gently with it. Take a bath towel and wipe off any excess oil, unless you stand the oil feeling until morning.

You can dust the body with a good pure bath powder after morning and night. It will do much to make the skin more comfortable. Personally I dislike the oil feeling, but for one who suffers excessively with dry skin the treatment is preferable to a crisp exterior.

If you alternate your kinds of bathing taking only one day and water the next, the water bath should be followed by good hand lotion. Rub lightly over the entire body. You may find this treatment will be pleasantly surprising. I know a nurse who used it with fine effect.

I can give you the names of good toilet waters and body powders if you would like to have them; also a powder that comes in a tall toilet box that is nice for oily skins prone to perspire too much.

If you want to know where you can purchase any article mentioned in this column please write Mignon at The Constitution office. Please do not write unless you live outside the city, in which case enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sunshine Cake Is as Refreshing As a New Spring Day

By FLORENCE LA GANKE.

Mrs. Aston had come to spend a few days with her daughter, Lois, who had called on her at her home in New York city.

"Lois has too much to do and the work is getting on her nerves. Can't you come over and show her what things are important and what not. Perhaps you can get her to employ a high school girl and maybe send out some of the laundry. We must do something, for she is all nerves."

Mrs. Aston called Lois later and made arrangements to come over, presumably to get her advice on a new dress she had selected. Once she knew she could find an opening which would let her invite herself for a few days.

And strangely enough, the opening came through a discussion of the new recipe for what Mrs. Aston called her "sunshine cake" she had ever had eaten.

Here is her recipe. Beat 10 egg whites until they are stiff and dry. Add one and one-half cups confectioner's sugar gradually, beating as the slow stream of sugar goes in. Add the yolks of six eggs. These have been beaten before adding until they are thick and yellow colored.

Next a teaspoon of lemon extract and a few bits of freshly grated lemon peel go in. One cup of flour is measured after sifting. The mixture is then put in a bowl and folded into the first mixture. A tube pan is used for baking the cake. The oven is 325 degrees. It takes about 50 minutes for the cake to bake. It is usually frosted with orange icing.

Nancy's leaflet on "Hot Desserts for Cold Weather" is still a good one. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your copy. Write Nancy Page, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Household Arts By ALICE BROOKS

Flower Motifs—Pattern 5047.

With the coming of spring comes the longing to dress up the house, to make it as pleasant a place as possible for the summer. A touch of embroidery—what can add more charm to those cushions that in themselves spell comfort and the scars that fix up the room just right? This simple pattern of the popular single-stitch daisy gets done very quickly and lends itself to a shading of colors as well as the use of one color alone. So here is your opportunity to add charm to your home with little effort, for this pattern can be used on a variety of articles besides those shown.

In Pattern 5047 you will find a transfer pattern of four 3-inch corner motifs, four 2-inch corner motifs, four small matching motifs, two 1 1/2-inch circular motifs and eight separate flowers; complete instructions, material requirements and color suggestions for making a variety of articles. Price of pattern, 10 cents.

Send your order to Household Arts Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

For Benning, Ga.; Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Savage, of Georgia, Ala. and Miss Ermine Lachicotte, of Columbia, South Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hosts at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis entertained at dinner last evening at their home on Clifton road in compliment to Miss Sue Burnett and Frank Tradewell Davis, whose marriage took place Saturday. A miniature Venetian gondola studded with white flowers and placed on a mirror reflector centered the artistic and novel decoration of the dining table. Three white swans harnessed by narrow white ribbons drew the gondola, and tiny figures, representing the bride and bridegroom, were placed in the gondola. Two white Dresden vases held white stocks, Easter lilies and white spires, and the burning white tapers were tied with white tulle bows.

A bouquet marked the place of each feminine guest and white rose boutonnieres were at the places of the men. Covers were placed for Miss Burnett, Mr. Davis, Miss Sara Bright Gracey, of Augusta; Mrs. Arthur Griffith, of Athens; Douglas Roberts, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde King Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Bryant King Yarn, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts Jr., Mr. Jean Callaway and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis.

For reservations, telephone Mrs. Fred Barre, Dearborn 2528, or Mrs. C. E. McCrary, Main 7105.

Dr. Barnett Addresses Meeting Of Methodist W. M. S. in Elberton

By MRS. ALVA G. MAXWELL, Superintendent of Publicity, for North Georgia Methodist W. M. S. ELBERTON, Ga., April 5.—Paying tribute to the Roosevelt policy that human welfare should always be given precedence over the industrial profit, Dr. Alfred Barnett, of Scarritt College, Nashville, Tenn., addressed the opening meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Georgia conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at its twenty-fourth session convening at the First Methodist church here, Tuesday morning.

"Can the United States Have Permanent Economic Recovery Without International Co-operation?" formed the theme for the round-table discussion featuring the program.

The conference officially opened for business on Wednesday morning with Mrs. L. N. McEachern, of Atlanta, president, presiding. The morning devotional was given Mrs. L. M. Atwell, of Acworth, vice president, and leader of the spiritual life groups.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

By PIERRE VAN PAASEN

Canada's Problem.

Canada, where these lines are written, did not escape the economic depression, but managed to avoid the panic feeling which came near overwhelming the people of the United States a year or so ago. (See 2000 banknotes and businessmen are telling me here that Canada will pull out of the depression without an NRA code or any other drastic measures of the sort. This is profoundly to be hoped, and there are indeed indications that there is a slow but general improvement in trade and commerce.)

PROTECTING THE PUBLIC.

As regrettable as is the death of the Georgia convict who was shot down when he attempted to escape from the Lowndes county chain gang, the incident presents a striking contrast to the escape from an Indiana prison of the desperado Dillinger.

Dillinger, locked in a cell in a modern prison, cowed 24 guards with a dummy pistol whittled from a broom handle and successfully completed a sensational escape that has been followed by a trail of bloodshed over several northwestern states.

The two Georgia guards in charge of a group of prisoners faced a far different situation when they prevented the escape of two desperate men. Out on a rural road, with no assistance within summoning distance, these guards fired from the hip when suddenly confronted with a drawn pistol and the command to throw up their hands.

The cowardice of the Indiana officers has already resulted in the death and wounding of several peace officers in other states in the effort to recapture Dillinger, while the bravery and quick thinking of the Georgia guards, unfortunately resulting in the death of one of the men attempting escape, has saved the public from further threat from bandits who were captured only after a street battle that endangered the lives of many innocent citizens.

At best, the incarceration of human beings for the dual purpose of punishment for wrong-doing and the protection of their fellow citizens, is a lamentable necessity, and they should be accorded the most humane treatment possible.

But when desperadoes attempt to break free in order to again wreak their depredations against society, they take their lives in their own hands, and it is the duty of those in whose charge they have been placed to stop at no means to prevent such escapes, even if this means the placing of the lives of the guards in jeopardy.

The bravery and devotion to their responsibility of Georgia's prison attaches has been proven time and again, and their regard for the lives of escaping prisoners is shown by the fact that the great majority of the desperate men who are willing to risk their lives for freedom are wounded, if it becomes necessary to fire on them, in the legs.

In instances like the attempted escape in Lowndes county, the guards had no alternative than to shoot to kill when their own lives were threatened with a drawn pistol.

The principles of humanity should dictate the care of prison inmates, but the Indiana escape and its aftermath furnishes concrete evidence of the necessity for prison guards to bravely and sternly meet efforts to escape.

Napoleon Rucker Snorts at Idea That Hitting Can Be Taught

Nap Rucker snorted like a bass saxophone player hitting a low note.

"Teach 'em to hit," he said. "I get a pain listening to all this stuff about teaching in baseball. You guys write a lot about it and there's a lot of talk. Some managers claim they teach hitting. But show me one."

This was heresy and heresy always delights me and so I moved closer.

"Do you mean, Mr. Napoleon Rucker," said I to the Brooklyn scout, who was one of the greatest left-handers baseball ever saw, "that hitting cannot be taught?"

"Exactly," he said. "All this stuff about teaching it as you would a golf swing is plain daffiness. You should know better than that."

"The golf ball is on the ground. It isn't coming at you fast or slow or curved in or out or maybe sailing up or maybe dropping down toward your knees.

"No two hitters are alike. Now, don't get me wrong. You've got to teach them how to keep those elbows out from the body and loose. And maybe how to stand. But that's all. And the minute you start trying to teach how to hit you are going to ruin what hitting they can do. Teach them how to stand and how to hold their arms, but not how to swing or hit."

"Why, Mr. Napoleon Rucker," said I, "this is rank heresy. And it strikes at some of the very fundamentals of our baseball traditions—to wit: the master mind who took the weak little rookie and by using his master mind made the rookie a great hitter."

"Not by teaching him how to hit," said Nap Rucker.

NO TWO STYLES ALIKE.

"There are no two hitting styles alike," said Napoleon Rucker. "Look at Hans Wagner. No one could hit like Wagner but Wagner. He stepped with the pitch. You might fool him with one down the middle, but he'd hit an inside ball or an outside ball every time."

"Look at Zack Wheat. He could make up his mind to hit later than anyone I ever saw. He could wait for the break and then hit. I've seen him hit when it looked as if the ball was about to pass him."

"Take a look at Ruth and Gehrig. They don't hit alike. They don't stand or swing alike.

"So you can't teach someone to hit like Wagner or Wheat or Cobb or Ruth or Gehrig or plain Joe Zilch. It can't be done. The ball comes up there different on each pitch. And no two fellows hit alike."

"And so," said Napoleon Rucker, who was as great as any left-handed pitcher baseball ever had, "don't let them tell you about teaching someone to hit."

"I won't Mr. Rucker," said I, "and thanks for a pleasant afternoon. I've always suspected some of these master minds were just a lot of grapefruit."

And so we parted.

EARLE MANN'S PENNANT.

It was July 31, 1932, and a sultry day in Hartford, Conn. The scene was the deserted ball park of the Hartford club. There were three figures at home plate. One of them carried a camera. One of them counted, "Hep-one-two-three," and at the final word the three of them stepped off, marching in step.

They marched solemnly and silently to the flag pole in center field, where they paused. One of them unwrapped a bundle and drew forth a large flag which proclaimed Hartford to be baseball champions of the Eastern league.

As the photographer clicked his shutters, the pennant was hauled into the air, fluttering in the small breeze that blew. It fluttered for a moment and then was hauled down. And the three of them marched off the field.

This—the strangest pennant raising in the history of baseball—found Earle Mann, secretary of the Atlanta baseball club, as the central figure. He had been accompanied on his march to the flagpole by a Hartford sports writer and a photographer. The pennant-raising day is usually the greatest day of the year—hands play—crowds cheer—peanuts are crunched, and soft drinks wash them down.

But this was all silent. The Hartford club had died on July 17, 1932, when the Eastern league disbanded. Mann, as secretary and treasurer, did not want to close out the office without raising the pennant won in 1931.

It is one of the classic baseball stories—the pennant raising at Hartford in 1932 in an empty park.

WHY, PLEASE?

Why is it that the city park board permits: Tennis fees to be collected on Sunday for tennis games? Golf fees to be collected on Sunday for golf games? Swimming fees to be collected on Sunday for swimming? And refuses permission for a good, clean, harmless baseball game to be played?

The Sunday afternoon baseball games conflict with nothing at all. They provide entertainment for more people than do the tennis games, the swimming matches and the golf game, which are permitted and encouraged in the city's parks. The city was certainly none the worse because of last Sunday's game.

Why discriminate against baseball? The stand is most inconsistent. The people of Atlanta, in regular election, have voted for Sunday baseball. They enjoy it and recognize it as a clean, harmless amusement to which there can be no logical objection. It provides something to do on Sunday afternoon other than going swimming, buying gas at a filling station, buying a golf game or a tennis match. There are thousands who wish to have the privilege of buying a baseball ticket. And no sound argument can be advanced against it.

WHY, MR. MACK!

If Robert Grove isn't able to pitch for the Red Sox this season it will mean that Tom Yawkey, the Red Sox owner, will have tossed $100,000 into the baseball windmills.

Now, that is important money, but there is no need to worry about Mr. Yawkey. From what I hear of the young man, he can toss several more $100,000 out the window and not have to borrow from his friends. And he will not moan nor cry aloud if Bob Grove's ailing arm fails to recover. He's a sportsman and knows how to lose.

But should Bob Grove and the other expensive chattels sold last winter by Connie Mack turn out to be valueless to their new owners, there will be some suspicious glances directed at Mr. Connie Mack. Can it be that he can peer into the future? And were those tears shed at the sales last winter just crocodile tears, or even baby alligator tears?

FILLIES OFFER SERIOUS THREAT IN DERBY RACE

Ten Colts and Five Fillies Top List of Eligibles.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 5.—(AP)—A battle of the sexes, aside from a renewal of the traditional rivalry between eastern and western horsemens, is in prospect for the sixtieth running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, May 5, providing outstanding fillies candidates for the $50,000 added event survive the rigors of training.

Derby speculation, which began with announcement of the nominations in February, will swell in volume with the opening of the spring race meeting at Bowie at which some of the top-notch juveniles of last year are expected to show their wares after their winter retirement.

Meanwhile the dopesters find five fillies and 10 colts on the list of eligibles which, on the basis of 2-year-old form or actual performance in winter tracks, would provide a first-class Derby field if they all paraded to the post in the historic classic.

The big question, of course, is whether a filly will be a Derby winner and match the solitary feat of Harry Payne Whitney's Regret in 1915. The five three-year-olds that are considered to have a chance to start in the Derby are Charles T. Fisher's Mata Hari, winter book favorite; Colonel E. R. Bradley's Bazaar; C. V. Whitney's John Payne; John Zoeller's Tattane and W. Graham's Coquel.

But the observers who doubt there is another Regret among this quiet, and are concentrating their study on the colts among the nominees, find 10 horses of the male sex that have them puzzled as to their ability to triumph in the grueling mile and a quarter test for 3-year-olds.

The five considered in the first flight, none of which was last year's winner, are: Mrs. J. H. Whitney's Singing Wood, last year's leading juvenile money-winner; Mrs. I. D. Sloan's Calveado, George D. Widenor's Chickadee; Mrs. Payne's John Black Buddy and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery. These, of course, are rated as Derby contenders solely on the basis of their 2-year-old record.

In the second flight, however, are found one or two horses which have proved formidable in winter racing. This group of five is composed of John B. Gordon's Sir Thomas; Norman W. Church's Riskulus, William J. Egler Jr.'s Bonanza, Warren Wright's Haden and John Simonetti's Sergeant Byrne. Marlene, a five-year-old, is in the Aquila Caliente Handicap, the railbirds at Churchill Downs, however, who get out of bed before sunrise to watch the trials, have singled out Sir Thomas, which never has won a race, as the home town favorite for the Derby.

RUSSELL FACES DECATUR TODAY

Russell and Decatur will furnish the outstanding game of the third round of the North Georgia Interscholastic conference baseball schedule this afternoon. They will play at 3 o'clock at Decatur.

Fulton, the defending champion, lost to Decatur Tuesday afternoon, plays Marietta at Almond park in another important game. North Fulton plays Marietta.

Decatur and Commercial are tied for leadership with two victories, with Druid Hills, Marietta and Russell tied for second place with one win and one loss each.

Smithies Meet Columbus Today.

Tech High will open its Big Six baseball schedule this afternoon in Columbus, against the Columbus High school nine. The opening round Tuesday was postponed and two other games, Riverside-Monroe and Boys' High-G. M. A., have been postponed. To the postponements were due to government inspections at G. M. A. and Riverside.

BULLDOGS SPLIT 'GATOR MATCHES

ATHENS, Ga., April 5.—University of Florida gators teams met on the tennis courts and on the golf links Thursday and the final results showed the Gators winning in tennis, 5 matches to 1, and the Bulldogs coming back to even the day's activities, taking the golf, 11-2 to 6-1-2.

On the courts Florida was dominant, allowing the Bulldogs only one match out of 6. Bob Lindsey, Georgia No. 1 man, scored a straight set victory over John Sims, 6-0, 6-1. Butler Zorian, Sutton and Chase won their doubles matches, as Florida defeated Lindsey and Hoyt, of Georgia, in the doubles, 6-4, 6-3.

Charles Warner, Billy Atkinson and Luke Jones scored 8 points for the Bulldogs linkmen to one for Florida in the two-ball matches, while Billy Starke defeated Billy Williams to credit Florida with 3 more points in the twosomes. Starke and Perry defeated McWilliams and Warner in the first foursome to add 2 points to the Gators' total and 1 to Georgia's. Atkinson and Jones, of Georgia, won the second foursome from Voigt and Voland to bring the Gators to 11-2 points and for Florida to 6-1-2 points.

Georgia Honors Boxers, Swimmers

ATHENS, Ga., April 5.—Thirteen Georgia swimmers and 10 boxers have been awarded varsity letters in these two minor sports, according to an announcement issued today by Clarence W. Jones, swimming and boxing coach.

Meawarded swimming letters are: Asa Candler, Hatcher Hodgson, Nick Hodgson, Ted Vetter, Dick Maxwell, Tom Hopper, Sam Atkinson, Maurice Steinberg, Taylor Hoynes, Leon Kahn, Howard Hudson, Bob Wotton and Nat Krumbine.

Boxing letters were awarded to Ray Ivey, Ralph Righton, Jules Violette, Alvin Ashford, E. C. Bell, Red Goodman, Mickey Radtke, Ray Sulzberger, Charlie Jacobson and Frank Bragg, manager.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

ALEX. J. MORRISON

Alex Morrison says: It is comparatively easy for the good player to improve his game. All he needs to do is practice and keep an eye on players better than himself so that he can imitate their swings.

By this route Paul Runyan, Craig Wood, Olin Dutra and Benny Shute have gained the spotlight.

They give little or no attention to anyone's game but their own. There are thousands of players who spend just as much time practicing and struggling to break 90 without getting any better.

Isn't the average golfer equipped struggling to break 90 without getting any better?

Indeed, he is. In many cases he's better equipped than the good player. The swing advocated by most teachers for the average player simply isn't the swing as it is made by the expert.

TECH GOLFERS PLAY FURMAN

Georgia Tech's golf team, which opened with a victory over the Furman golf team at Furman last Saturday, will play Furman's team at 1 o'clock this afternoon on the No. 2 East Lake course. It will be the opening match of the home schedule for Tech.

Charlie Yates, winner of the amateur medal in the recent Masters' Invitation tournament at Augusta, will head the Tech team. Other members of Tech's golf team will include John and Frank Ridley, George Harris and Berrien Moore Jr.

Coch H. E. Dennison will be in charge of the jacket golfers.

Purple Golfers Invade Savannah.

Boys' High golf team will leave the city tonight for Savannah, Ga., where on Saturday the Purples play Savannah High a return match. Savannah won over Boys' High on the city course last year.

Captain Jack Ezell will head the Purples' team, which will include Allen Leibler, Red O'Neal, a finalist in the city junior championship last year, and Billy Stevens.

Tech High's undefeated golf team will play Lanier High at Macon this afternoon in a return match. The two teams played a 9-to-8 tie the same time ago on the Bobby Jones municipal course.

G. Y. Smith, coach, will accompany the Smithies golfers to Macon. Members of the team are Captain Tom Barnes, finalist in the city amateur tournament two years ago; James (Kid) Brown, Jack Cook and Paul Senkbeil.

Tech High started its undefeated streak last year and only the tie with Lanier mars the record. The Smithies won the city, state and southern prep golf championships last year.

HOUSTON PLAY IN SEMI-FINALS

HOUSTON, Texas, April 5.—(AP)—Wilmer Allison, of Austin; Lester Stoenen, of Los Angeles, and George Lott, of Chicago, advanced today to the semi-finals of the annual River Oaks tennis tournament.

Bryan "Bispy" Grant, diminutive Atlantian, was leading the veteran Gilbert Hall, of East Orange, N. J., 6-2, 6-8, 6-4, for the right to meet the winner of the match between Stoenen and Lott.

The match will be concluded tomorrow.

For the second successive day, Stoenen, national indoor champion and victor in the Baltimore invitation tournament at Atlanta last week, received stiff competition from a member of the University of Texas tennis squad. He defeated Martin Buxby, of Longhorns No. 1 man, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Allison and Lott, both Davis cup veterans, breezed through their quarter-final matches, as Allison, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1, and Lott, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1, both of whom are former University of Texas stars, on an off day and trimmed him, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1. Lott downed Jake Hess, of Houston, former Rice Institute player, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Commercial Nines Will Meet Tonight

President Bert Niehoff has called a meeting of all members of the Atlanta Commercial Athletic Association for tonight at 8 o'clock at Harbor-Sport Sporting Goods Company.

This meeting is to complete all necessary matters pertaining to the opening of the baseball season, which gets under way April 14. The approval of schedules and other such matters must be disposed of at this meeting and plans laid for opening day events.

It is important that all members have a representative at this meeting.

Jap Tennis Star Drowns in Ocean

TOKYO, April 6.—(Friday)—A message from Singapore, received here today, stated that a Japanese tennis player, Jiro Satoh, famed Japanese tennis player, had committed suicide by throwing himself from a liner shortly after sailing from that place. The reports added that the body had not been recovered.

CARDS COUNTING ON MOUND VETS FOR BIG SEASON

Haines, Dean, Hallahan, Grimes and Carleton Carry Burden.

BRADENTON, Fla., April 5.—(AP)—If the pitching staff of the St. Louis Cardinals registers as effectively over this year's National league hookup as it has been doing in Florida, another pennant song may echo along the banks of the old Missouri.

Two straight seasons in the second division since their world championship conquest of 1921, with a ball club that figured to do much better have agitated the Messrs. Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey, who conduct the far-flung affairs of the Cardinal organization. Since they put their celebrated "farm system" on the map with a triumph over the New York Yankees in 1926 they have given St. Louis four pennant winners and two world champions. Now that another flag-winner is overdue, according to their calculations, the issue has been put squarely upon the broad shoulders of the line-up.

THE SPORT PARADE

The Salute Before Eternal Sleep

Colorful Cherokee Indians Will Play Here Today at 3.

By Jimmy Jones.

Manager Spencer Abbott last night announced another reduction in his Atlanta baseball squad, with the information that Carlos Moore, your right-handed pitcher, had been told to name a deal for himself. This is tantamount to release.

Moore, who pitched some great ball for Birmingham back several years ago, has an excellent chance of catching on with the Barons, it was learned. He came to the Crackers last summer from New Orleans in the swap for Andy Messinger. The fact that he is a Class A man was against his being retained.

Earlier in the day, Abbott handed pink slips to Pitchers Joe Maley, E. F. Nix and Ralph Cannon. The turning loose of Carlos Moore made the Crackers to be lopped from the roster during the day. Ten more must be cut loose before opening day in the Southern league, which is on April 17.

Johnny Dobbs, co-director of the Charlotte (Piedmont league) club, was due in the city today to look over some of the youngsters on the club. But Dobbs did not arrive. Abbott, however, wouldn't mind having another look at several of the players about whom he still has his doubts.

MAY KEEP SHEERIN. Concerning Charley Sheerin, the young third baseman who was slated to go to Charlotte according to reports of yesterday, Abbott isn't so sure that this will not be the youngster's immediate fate.

"I don't know Sheerin," he's looking pretty good and is a Class B man; if Knothe doesn't report, he may come in pretty handy. He may need another year or so in a lower league, but I'm going to keep him around a while yet," Spencer stated.

The Crackers had a rather easy time defeating the Oglethorpe Petrels, their first college opposition, 9 to 2, yesterday. Dave Pruett, young right-hander, recommended by Jimmy Lavender, the former "Chicago Cubs" pitcher, and Montezuma, Ga., and Almon Williams, a lanky boy from Texas, recommended by Paul Richards, the New York Giant's catcher, twirled for the Crackers and did very well, both showing plenty of speed.

Johnny Nee, the scout for the Yankees, and Eddie Goetz, scout for Detroit, saw the game and both commented on the looks of the two boys. Both are undoubtedly in need of more experience in the smaller leagues, but they are good prospects.

The Crackers touched Lefty Dixon and Belton Clark, two of Frank Anderson's pitchers, for 11 hits and all of their runs. But Ed Copeland, a former Tech High boy, who was the third pitcher for the Petrels, stopped the Crackers without a run or a hit in the two innings he worked.

Yancey, the Petrels' catcher, looked best for the collegians.

INDIANS HERE TODAY. The Cherokee Indians, one of the more colorful semi-pro clubs now on the road, will play the Crackers today at 3 o'clock. It should be an interesting game, for the Indians have several outstanding players of their race, including Young Deer, an outfielder, said to be 60 years old.

The Indians are booked out of Chattanooga.

Abbott plans to pitch Hugh Casey and Millard Hayes, right-handers, against the Redskins.

Pip' Koehler, the Crackers' jack-of-all-trades, played second base again yesterday while Byrne James was recuperating from a slight injury. Koehler handled nine chances without an error and showed himself very capable at the position. Koehler may be the man of destiny for the Crackers if Fritz Knothe fails to report, for he can play any infield position, as well as the outfield.

McKEE LOOKS GOOD. Duck McKee did some more good hitting for the Crackers yesterday and indicated that he is finding his batting eye. Duck had two doubles and a single for the afternoon.

Young Bill Casey, the club's present third-string receiver, caught the entire game while Byrne James was out so badly. He got a single, driving in the Crackers' first two runs in the second and participated in a double play. The Crackers play the Newark Bears here Saturday and Sunday.

Cherokee Tribe Sends A Colorful Team Here

Their Motto Must Be: The Older the Better; Outfielder is 60 Years Old.

By Jimmy Jones.

The Cherokee Indian baseball team which comes here today to play the Atlanta Crackers in an exhibition game, is a very colorful outfit indeed, according to advance notices of Arnold R. Benton, who books the Indians out of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The ages of the Cherokee players range from 18 to 60, according to Mr. Benton. And there is a 60-year-old outfielder—Young Deer, by name—who is said to have played baseball with "Pop" Warner, the New York ring some months ago, has been playing for the Crackers since he was 18.

If Young Deer (the name must have been given facetiously) played baseball with Pop Warner, he is every bit of 60 years old.

The Indians, it may be added in all seriousness, are one of the better semi-pro outfits now on the road. They play good ball, according to their records, and have proved to be a very good gate attraction.

One of the advantages the Crackers have, according to information furnished by Mr. Benton, is that they are able to give their signals audibly in their own language without fear of having them detected.

Bryant and Sorrow, with three hits each, led the batting attack for Commercial, while Casey hit best for the losers.

Atkinson pitched steady for the winners after the first inning when Dr. Sarpolis secured three runs. Commercial, 300 100 000 5 6 7; Commercial, 000 300 000 11 10 9; Atkinson, Woodall and Turner; Atkinson and Ivey.

In another furious contest, the St. Louis Cardinals, who arrived at 11 o'clock today, along with the lineup for the game: Andrew Sannoke or Nick Bradley will start on the mound against the Crackers. Andrew Sannoke is famous for being able to play in any position on the field but has two he likes best—the pitcher's box and first base. Sannoke won many games when he started last season and says he is in good shape for this season.

Nick Bradley is the ace pitcher of the Cherokee club. He also pitched to Gabby Street, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. He played with Charlie Gilbert in his young days.

Servier Crowe is the young catcher for the Cherokee club. He is also known as that guy that puts the hide over the wall when he comes up to bat. He is the home run king of the Cherokee club and he is expected to give some of the Southern league pitchers some trouble getting started with their 1934 season.

Andrew Sannoke, second base, No. 6.

Jonah Kattiff, shortstop, No. 8.

C. Sannoke, first base, No. 3.

Sam Wahabath, third base, No. 5.

The Littlejohn, center field, No. 8.

Nick Bradley, pitcher, No. 1.

Servier Crowe, catcher, No. 2.

Jackets and Tigers Open Season at 4 P. M. at Bowl Field.

By Jack Troy.

They won't be prying off any lids at the Rose Bowl field this afternoon to open the college baseball season here. Chances are they'll be knocking the cover off the old horsehide as Tech and Auburn meet in the first of a two-game series at 4 o'clock.

Coach Bobby Dodd has decided to pitch his ace right-hander, Alternate Captain Sam Stripling, in today's game. Stripling is a very capable chucker and will have the advantage of veteran support.

The Tech nine has come along fine during the training season. Coach Dodd was enabled to pick his team on the very first day. And the only change has sent Sun Dial Martin to third and McNulty, a splendid sophomore prospect, to second. This leaves Cliff Hardin, veteran second-sacker, for utility duty.

Hoot Gibson, a regular last year, is back at first, with Grossi again performing at shortstop. It's a very efficient inner works.

VETERAN OUTFIELD.
A veteran trio is roaming in the outfield again. Johnny Ferguson is playing left, Skippy Roberts is running down in center, and Captain Tommy Spradling is taking care of the right garden.

Pug Boyd, regular last year, is the backstop. His understudy is McDonald, a promising catcher who is injured.

The Jackets have a punch this year. Both at the plate and in the field. With Stripling in the box the Jackets have a fine chance to open the season today with a victory. Carnerer is expected to pitch Saturday.

Auburn with a new coach and a fairly strong team, has made a fine showing in the exhibition games. There have been five victories and only two defeats.

Coach Hershel Bobo, former minor league pitcher, has assembled a capable team. The only distressing part at present is the injury to Captain Sam Mason, all-conference first baseman, who will miss the series.

MASON OUT.
Mason has a wrenched knee. He led Auburn hitters last year with an average of .377. His great stick work will be missed.

Look Out for Shorty

Members of the Auburn baseball team had better keep an eye on Shorty Roberts, Tech outfielder, when the two teams meet in the first of a two-game series this afternoon. Shorty means business when he gets on the diamond. The teams will meet at Tech at 4 o'clock. Staff photo.

JACKETS MEET 'BAMA NETMEN

Georgia Tech's tennis team, which lost to Davidson, 5-4, Tuesday afternoon at Tech, will play the University of Alabama's team at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the Tech courts.

Following today's matches the Jackets will play the University of Florida net team Saturday afternoon.

Billy Reese, city and state champions, will head the list of Jacket net stars to face Alabama. Others on the Tech team are Hank Crawford, Nelson Maynard, Randolph West, Malcolm Keiser, Marion Rivers and Tom Tumlin.

Buford Beats Gaylord, 11 to 2

BUFORD, Ga., April 5.—Buford's All-Stars defeated the Gaylord nine, Atlanta amateur champions, 11 to 2, here this afternoon.

Bob Hasty, former Cracker hurler, gave the Atlanta nine a scare by scattered hits after his mates had piled up a safe lead in the early innings. Hasty pitched steadily during the remainder of the game.

Ed Baxter and Ty White, with three hits each, led the hitting for Buford. Whitley secured a home run for the Shoemakers.

Clonts hit best for the Containers. Buford will play the Kirkwood Baptist, Atlanta amateur nine, here Saturday afternoon in another practice game.

Milwaukee Sells Metzler to Chicks

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 5.—(P)—The addition of Alex Metzler to the outfield of the Memphis Chicks was announced today by Doc Prothro, manager. Metzler was obtained from Milwaukee for an unannounced consideration.

Peck Hamel and Frank Brazill probably will play the other outfield posts.

Another of the weekly one-day golf tournaments sponsored by the Piedmont Park Women's Golf Association will be played at 9 o'clock this morning at Piedmont park.

Chick Ridley, Piedmont Park professional, will be in charge of the tournament for the association.

Every woman golfer in the city is invited to participate and register for the women's association, which will soon be reorganized.

PREP TRACKMEN TO MEET TODAY

Boys' High and Tech High will open their track schedules at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in a dual meet at Grant field. It will be the first of a series of prep meets prior to the state championships at Savannah May 4.

Three of Boys' High's stars, Stevens, winner of the indoor dashes at Chapel Hill recently; Dillard Ward, second in the 100-yard dash; and Dick Jones, a high hurdler, have been out of practice several days and will not compete today. They are ill with severe colds.

Both Tech High and Boys' High track and field candidates have been working hard for the past month whenever the weather has been suitable.

Neither Coach Ward, of Boys' High, nor Kopf, Tech High, have narrowed their squads down as yet and every candidate will be given ample opportunity to show his ability.

There will be 33 events on today's card, with seven on the track and six in the field.

Smithie Matmen Off for Title Bout

Tech High's wrestling team, under the direction of Ted Radcliffe, will leave early this morning for Chattanooga, Tenn., where it will participate in the annual Y. M. C. A. championships today and Saturday.

The Smithies are members of the Y. M. C. A. and have been working out at the "Y" recently and will represent the Atlanta Triangles in the Chattanooga meet.

Six members of the Tech High-Y. M. C. A. team will make the trip. They are Spender Diamond, winner of the state 125-pound title; Joe Pantello, winner of the state 175-pound class; Ed Payne, Popeye Smith and Rusty Burnett.

Y. M. C. A. Meet Opens at Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 5.—(P)—Twice winner of the southern Y. M. C. A. wrestling championship in three, the Chattanooga Central Y. team will defend its title in the southern regional tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Chattanooga won in 1931 and 1933. Knoxville in 1932.

Teams have entered for this year's competition from Draper, Birmingham, Spray, N. C.; Columbus, Ga.; Knoxville, Nashville and Atlanta.

Weighing in will take place Friday morning, with drawings for first-round pairings shortly thereafter. The first bouts will get under way at 3 o'clock in the afternoon; the night program begins at 7:30.

LEFTY NICHOLS, 'FLUNK' COSTA DUE TO PITCH

Coach Smith Worried Over Looks of His Mound Staff.

By Bill Ray.

ATHENS, Ga., April 5.—After two exhibition games against professional teams, the Georgia baseball club will meet the Florida Gators here tomorrow afternoon and Saturday in a two-game series which will inaugurate the '34 season of collegiate baseball for the Bulldogs.

The two pre-season games against Toronto, of the International league, and the House of David, bearded team, found the Bulldozer slightly erratic in their pitching and fielding but tomorrow afternoon with a more equal rival Georgia should snap out of the kinks.

Mound difficulties have been the predominant worries of Coach Vernon "Catfish" Smith, who has only two pitchers showing the necessary control and stamina. Lefty Nichols and Lawrence "Flunk" Costa are apparently the best moundmen and are also the best bets for starters against the Gators tomorrow and Saturday.

Nichols, who delivered five nice innings against Toronto, will probably start the series tomorrow afternoon with Costa on the bench until Saturday's game.

OTHER PITCHERS.
Julius Bishop, Tony Fratzita, "Sully" Sullivan and Hal Halstrand are the other pitchers but none of these have an exceptional control or deception. All four were used against the House of David to give them experience.

Leroy Moorehead will more than likely be starting in either position both games against his understudy, Maurice Carter, caught the entire House of David game. Moorehead has plenty of backstopping experience and knows how to conserve the pitcher's strength.

Selection of the infield will be a comparatively easy task since the starters in the exhibition games seem to have it over other candidates in both the fielding and hitting departments. Harrison Anderson will be at the initial sack where he has been performing satisfactorily. Although his hitting is still a little off.

"Flip" Costa will continue at second base and will lead off the batting order. Costa takes it easy and looks over the pitcher's delivery before he swings to make an ideal lead-off man.

TREADAWAY SHIFTS.
Charlie Treadaway, who was shifted from left field to his old position at shortstop Wednesday, may go back to the outfield since his arm seemed to be bothering him a great deal. His throwing peg caused the trouble forcing him to throw underhanded and to evade any strain. The arm was broken during his freshman football year and was reinjured this spring. In case he is shifted Lee Webb will probably return to short.

Cy Grant, who has had some hard luck on errors and muffs during the first two games, will probably be back at third unless Hal Gibson, the Atlanta boy, gets to show his talents. Grant got a double from the bearded men Wednesday for his first hit.

Jordan Ennis, Henry Waggon and either Dobbs or Treadaway will be in the outfield. Treadaway's value as a hitter will keep him in the lineup despite his arm and if it is in a short he will be in left field. Dobbs is the utility outfielder. Both Ennis and Waggon follow in hard hitting paths of former Bulldog outfielders and usually get a hit when they come up to the bat.

The hitting and fielding of the Bulldogs has been fair so far and with a little more "pepper" the club should settle down to give the Gators a close game tomorrow afternoon. Coach Smith gave the club a long workout this afternoon and sent them to the showers determined to win.

Three of Boys' High's stars, Stevens, winner of the indoor dashes at Chapel Hill recently; Dillard Ward, second in the 100-yard dash; and Dick Jones, a high hurdler, have been out of practice several days and will not compete today. They are ill with severe colds.

THE PORTLIGHT

THE BABE'S LEGS HIS ONLY WORRY.

Ponce de Leon had his troubles in locating the famous fount where the El Dorado of the years lay, but locating the heart of spring was a softer job.

I found it in the broad grin of an old-timer, possibly taking his last trip north. I made the same trip with him just 15 years ago when he gave up pitching to become a home run hitter. Now he needs only 14 more to reach the 700 mark and leave the field a target to shoot at for a long time to come.

Here was spring again, with the Babe looking better than he has looked in some years through early April.

"It's the old story," Babe Ruth said as he began to talk the season over.

"It's up to the legs. I never felt better in every other way, and even my legs feel stronger than they did a year ago."

"How many games will they be good for?" I asked him.

"A hundred, anyway," he said. "Maybe more. I've already played in about 20 exhibition games with no trouble at all. I think this year I have used better judgment. As a starter, I put in about a month of golf ahead of time—36 holes nearly every day. Then when I moved back to baseball I took no chances. I worked them out gradually, building them up day by day."

"What's the main problem in the care of veteran legs?" I asked.

Ruth said: "When you get up around 40 you have to watch any quick, sudden start. And the same goes for a sudden stop. The main job is to guard against a charley-horse. When you get one of those mutts stabled in your thigh you are up against it right. That means the old elastic is missing—the spring is gone. But I've been working on a method to stop this."

"In what way?" I asked.

"I'm learning how to start in a smoother way without any quick jerk. Just swing into motion, and after that it is easy. For once I got started I am about as fast as I ever was. It's the quick start and the quick stop that tell you the story of your legs."

The Rest—O. K.
"How about the rest of it?" I asked.

"A hundred per cent," he said. My eyes are as good now as they were at 20. The batting eye is the last thing to go. I have the same stuff in my hands, wrists and arms as I had when we came north together in 1919. If I could play in 150 games I could still hit between 50 and 60 home runs. I know I can hit the ball as far today as I could at 25, and you'll find I won't strike out as much as I used to. I seem to have a better feeling of control in swinging a bat."

"How can a ball player tell when he is slipping?" I asked the Babe.

"The legs tell you," he answered. "You may not want to listen—and a lot of them won't. The legs start whispering. Then they speak louder. Then they start to yell. It isn't so much the arm. I pitched a nine-inning ball game last fall and won it. There's no trouble with my arm. It's that charley-horse—that quick bunching of thigh muscles into a hard knot that does the damage."

"You must have had a pretty fair pair of legs to start with," I suggested. "Legs able to carry 220 pounds or more for 20 years."

"Don't forget," the Babe said with a grin, "that I helped them out. It's about 150 yards around the bases as we have to travel. Seven hundred home runs mean that I have saved my legs 100,000 yards, or around 50 miles in sprinting to score runs."

Last Year—Or Not.
"Is this your last year, Babe?" I asked. "I mean wearing the old harness and taking the old cut?"

"I'm afraid it is," he said. "At least it looks that way. But I'm looking forward to more fun this season than I ever had before. I feel all set for one of my best years at bat. I don't think I ever hit the ball any better in the spring. I've got no kick coming if I have to close out my act. I'm like the fellow who wired his brother that he was going blind. 'What of it?' the brother wired back. 'You've seen everything.' 'I've had my share of what the old game has to offer in the way of fun, thrills, and the rest of it.' 'Did you ever get a bigger thrill from it all?' I suggested. 'than the day you called the second homer in Chicago and came through?'"

"I guess that was the top," he answered. "So you know when they found that ball it was all flattened out? I put everything in that swing from my toes to my ears and everything seemed to work together—feet, body and arms. The second I hit that ball I knew no pitcher would ever

DOG SHOW OPENS THIS MORNING WITH BIG ENTRY

Eighty-Six Breeds on Exhibit at 671 Peachtree Street.

With the largest number of entries ever registered for a dog show here, and plans all completed for the gala event, doors to the big Atlanta Kennel Club show at 671 Peachtree street, will swing open to the public this morning at 10 o'clock.

Eighty-six breeds of dogs, it is announced, will be exhibited at the show, which extends through Saturday, with the doors opening each day at the same hour.

Judges will be Rees L. Davis, of Anderson, Ind., for Boston terriers, and Frank H. Addyman, of Ardsley, N. Y., for all other breeds and best in the show. The judging will start Friday afternoon, and an experienced dog fancier will herald the happenings to the audience through loud-speaker arrangements. Special events have been arranged for each night.

In the entries are many famous dogs which have won championships. Many of the biggest kennels of the United States are sending their best dogs. The competition will be keen in all classes.

Some of the most famous dogs entered include those of John Christman, of Afton, Mo.; Beagle Champion, Bloomsdale Kingfish; Mrs. Maude Daniels Smith, of Rye, N. Y., two smooth dachshund champions, Maiden and Vodelges Raecher; Mrs. John McLaughlin and Miss M. Bell, of Savannah, wire fox terrier, English Champion Stormy Boy; Miss Catherine Erwin, of Atlanta, Cairn champion, Fiddown Thistle; Mrs. A. G. Laughridge, of Atlanta, German Shepherd champion, Graf V. Sonnenbach; Idlewood kennels, Atlanta.

Another notable entry is that of two pointers sent down by John G. Bates, of New York, who has long been the chairman of the big Madison Square Garden show.

FINAL INSTALLMENT

Jen heard this and remembered how differently she had spoken of him that day not a month ago out in the entry. Lize was not the marrying kind, she thought. Lize would still be a trim, smart office girl when she was 50. It would not be so with Lois May.

"Look, Ed," said Margaret. "He's waiting up a little."

"He'd better go back to sleep," said Ed. "or Santa Claus won't bring him anything. . . . There, that ought to be enough for you. Did you go through the Corn Belt on that trip you took? Iowa, and them places?"

"Yes, Olly told him. 'Just after harvest. It was stacks as far as you could see in all directions.'"

"I guess they use it mostly for their hogs," George said. "It must be a big job to raise up all that stuff and feed it out and like as not get nothing for it in the end. From all I hear, they cover a lot more territory out that way, but most of them don't get ahead much faster."

The children stood, a row of six. Mill's Vera wavered between her older sisters, all in their striped outing flannel nightgowns, each holding a stocking he had just taken off. Jen did not approve the hanging of stockings from a drawer. Let each child hang his own, with the imprint of his foot still in it, a bigger foot each year. She had always done so, and Olly had, and Lize and Ed and George and Ralph.

"Now then, father! Where's your nails? We're needing six this year. No, seven, it is."

Mark Shaw brought his hammer and leaned across the woodbox to nail each stocking in place from the shelf behind the stove. He took Bun's first, because she was the oldest; it hung long and wide; then Esther's, Betty's, John's, George's, Vera's and young Ed's. The children watched with solemn eyes, each breathlessly waiting for his turn to come, and Margaret held up her baby's small white sock until Mark Shaw came to it in his due course and fastened it as carefully as the others next to the funnel.

"Mine's most as big as John's," cried George. "Next year it will be; won't it, daddy?"

"I guess you'll have to hyper," chuckled George.

"It won't," John restored doubtfully. "I guess, Will it, Bun?"

"Course not," Bun answered. "It'll just be longer than it is, and so will your own, and so'll the baby's." She eyed her own.

"There!" Jen exclaimed. "And now you're going to bed, as fast as you can scoot. Lois May'll take up the hot rocks for us."

"It don't seem as if I'd go to sleep," objected Betty. She was all blue eyes and yellow curls tonight, unreal beside the others.

"No," laughed Jen, "but you'll find you will."

She had seen wide eyes before on Christmas Eve.

With the children gone, the elders had their brief turn at being young again. Filling the stockings and decorating the tree with strung popcorn and cranberries and tying little packages for one another on the boughs, they talked and laughed, remembering what had been in the past and hoping for the future.

Lize curled up on the floor like a kitten, wearing an old plaid dress Jen had brought down for her from the attic, and leaned against her father's knee as she had years before; he kept looking down at the top of her head. Jen and Margaret worked fast at pressing cornballs into shape and heaping them on platters here and there about the sitting room and kitchen. There were bowls of candied popcorn, too, and sugared orange peel, and pans of polished apples. Lois May kept tasting first one and then another, daintily, but still her glance would travel in the direction of the tree; she wondered what it bore for her, especially what Lize had put there. Mill was in high spirits, with much to say to tease Ed and Stan and Olly, and even George. Jen listened to her with amusement; this was like the old Mill who had come here for Christmas-masses while she was still the oldest Ross girl, and sometimes brought her younger sister with her, the grave, sweet one who went to normal school. It was close to midnight when Mrs. Shaw broke in with, "We are going to hear that new machine of yours before we go to bed, Stan?"

"His new machine!"

"Shall I?" Stan asked Jen.

"He got his Christmas present from his folks this morning," Jen explained.

"It's an accordion. . . . Why, yes, Stan, play it, if you think you can."

He brought it out and it was a strange thing to see in the Shaw kitchen, but still it looked like Christmas, for it was red and black with squares of mother-of-pearl set in the ends. Stan lifted it tenderly, his eyes intent, his mouth smiling, and tried a note or two, pushing it in and out from the ends, all the way to make music. Suddenly he straightened, throwing back his head, and began to play a Christmas tune, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing." He played it no more like a hymn than like a dance, and no less; his shoulders swayed with every note; he sang with it, laughing as he sang:

Hark, the herald angels sing
Glory to the new-born King—

Olly saw the strange, wild look in Stan's eyes that he had seen there in the summer, but none of the other Shaws seemed to notice it, or be afraid. They were laughing, too, and singing; even Mark Shaw smiled, watching Stan.

"Now wasn't that fine?" asked Mrs. Shaw. "You can imagine the pleasure we've got with his music all the fall. And I declare I think I like it."

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

TRAVELS OF CAPTAIN COOK.

III.—The Last Voyage.

Strange and curious are customs of natives on some of the islands in the Pacific.

On Savage Island, Captain Cook found that the native Mallicos were in the custom of cheering by "hissing like a goose." In our land a hiss is far from being a sign of good will.

Not quite a month after he landed, he came to his death at the hands of the natives. The event took place when Cook tried to get back a row-boat which he believed the natives had stolen.

In times before, the Hawaiians had been kind to the whites, giving them food and treating the captain with honor; but a false step had been made. The English had sailed into the bay without warning, and he "taboo"—that is, it was not to be used because of a religious fear.

The loss of the boat followed, and Cook tried to arrest a native chief and hold him until the boat was returned. This brought about a fight in which the captain was stabbed.

Thus ended the life of a great leader. In this case he may have blundered; but, if so, it was one of very few blunders in his career. A happier fortune would have spared him, so that he might have gone on with his fine work in roving over the sea.

The comrades of Captain Cook paid him what honor they could then make their way back to England.

ROGERS MEAT MARKETS

Cudahy's Puritan

NU-PROCESS

HAMS

Puritan Hams are cut from young, corn-fed porkers and cured in accordance with the famous Cudahy "Puritan Cure" in salt, sugar and savory spices. During the curing the temperature, humidity and general atmospheric conditions affecting the meats are carefully regulated. After the cure is complete the meats are transferred to metallic chambers fitted with air-tight doors. Here the recently perfected Cudahy NU-PROCESS system of "smoking" is applied. Under this method the meats are thermalized; that is, they are exposed to a slow, even heat, generated by steam-charged pipes. At the same time a gentle, fragrant hickory ember vapor is released into the chambers and gradually, as this vapor surrounds the meats, they absorb its delicate yet tempting tang and take on a protective covering that literally locks in their prime savory goodness and lends to their surface an inviting nut-brown color.

AIR CIRCULATION and AIR CONDITIONING prove superiority OF ICE REFRIGERATION

As soon as you really understand what happens in a modern ice refrigerator, you immediately see how much superior it is to any other method.

It is just as important to have properly conditioned air in your refrigerator as it is to have the proper low temperature.

Your modern ice refrigerator not only maintains the proper low temperatures—it goes much further. The contaminating odors and gases given off by food are quickly removed, dissolved in the film of water surrounding the ice and carried out of the drain. Ice refrigeration is the only method which eliminates these gases and odors which cause food spoilage as well as indiscriminate mixing of flavors.

Ice refrigeration is the only method which provides air conditioning. The air is constantly washed, purified and conditioned with just the proper amount of moisture to keep foods from drying out. Thus, all the natural juices and moisture are retained. The health of members of your family depends largely on the food they eat. When it comes to refrigeration, choose wisely.
